Farmers Buying Or Selling Land Should Check ASC

Persons who are buying or selling farmland for which an acreage allotment has been established have a definite responsibility for becoming familiar with the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture governing combination and division of allotments and for advising County ASC Committees when purchases or sales have been made.

According to H. D. Godfrey, Administrative Officer for the ASC State Committee, County ASC committees are not in a position to know of all land sales and purchases and, therefore, cannot make a change in the acreage allotments.

In the announcement, Mr. Robertson cites that the foundation is extremely pleased to be able to offer this scholarship program. "We undertake this movement with a deep appreciation of the importance of education to the American way of life. Through this award program, we hope to assist deserving young men and women, while helping to assure a greater source of men and women trained in the sciences, liberal arts, professional and administrative fields. At the same time, we are pleased to be in a position to evidence tangible support for continuing progress at the college and university levels."
