At last, the annuals have arrived. They were given out Friday after the dedication was made in chapel to Mrs. Frankie Johnson, teacher of 11th grade English. Mrs. Johnson certainly deserved the dedication because of her untiring contribution in helping with the Junior-Senior Prom every year and other activities at CHS. The annuals, edited by Melissa Osborne, were examples of inspiration and perspiration. The annual staff, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Messer, did a wonderful job.

The Black Bears are "hot to trot". They chalked up two more victories last week by defeating both Waynesville and Asheville School. We are certainly proud of our boys!

For the program Friday in assembly, we had Civitan speeches. Pupils from each grade in high school wrote speeches and competed against each other in their own grade. From each section three speakers are selected. The freshmen and sophomores compete against each other; the juniors and seniors compete against one another.

The winners for the lower grades were Ashley Neal, winner; Clara Coleman, runner-up. In the upper class Linville Robinson won with Freddy Warner as runner-up. All the speeches were very good and the judges will vouch to this statement since they had such a hard time picking out the winners.

The seniors were presented with beautiful pen and pencil sets, compliments of Haywood County Bank. These pens have come in real handy to sign the annuals with. We certainly do thank the thoughtful people who are responsible.

Our student council is featuring a clean-up campaign for all the school. Charles Hall, chairman of the campaign, is really trying to get the students enthusiastic about cleaning up because we can then be even prouder of our spotless school.

The Junior and Senior band and choral group gave a concert Monday night. Both bands played a selection of 15 numbers, all beautifully done. The choral sang three numbers, also beautifully presented. Mr. Mannie, the director, has done a wonderful job with both musical groups.

We had the pleasure of having the Valdese choir sing for us last Tuesday. They certainly can sing! Our choral group sat in amazement as they listened to the choir. To just half way sound like them would be a high goal.

Our Spanish II students recently took a state Spanish test. The three highest papers from the class were sent to Chapel Hill to be graded. They will be competing against other Spanish test, from all over the state. The three tests sent from CHS were those of Robert

General Traffic Hazard

WALHALLA, S. C. (AP) — The monument to Confederate Gen. John Anders Wagener, founder of this community, has become a victim of the motor age.

The monument stood at a main intersection for 53 years without once being hit by traffic. In 1953, however, authorities decided it was a traffic hazard and moved it to a new site. Then a speeding car hit the monument, breaking it into seven pieces.

is in Mission Memorial hospital in Asheville.

Others on the sick list are Pink Underwood, "Pop" Ford and "Uncle" Bob Grasty.
