Conference Gets First - Hand Safety Fair View Of Lord's Acre Plan

Country conference in session at C of C Asks Help Lake Junaluska visited Elizabeth Chapel, Ratcliffe Cove, Saturday noon for lunch and a first-hand account of a Lord's Acre Project Beauty Contestant of the rural church.

The group, led by Dr. James Sells, director, heard members of the church, including Mrs. James Medford, president of the WSCS; Hugh Ratcliffe, owner of the land; and two young people, Milas Kirkpatrick and Barbara Stone, explain various projects which have meant nice returns for the church treasury. They were presented by the Rev. Grady Barringer, pastor of the church.

One of the projects staged by the women was a "dollar talent" program in which each member received one dollar to reinvest and turned all proceeds back to the church treasury. This netted Morgan, Bill Morgan; 4. Golden enough to pay off the indebtedness on the church kitchen and dining room, where some 60 were served a bountiful dinner on Saturday.

The half acre of spring onions planted last year netted the church $160 and they expect $100 for this year's planting.

The conference went on record as approving a rural center in Brazil for the Rev. and Mrs. R. experiences for five years in Brazil and the need of an agricultural missionary. The Renshaws will return in January to begin work on the project. He is a native of Tennessee and she of Georgia. They are home on their first furlough. The conference honored the Rev. Dumont Clarke of Asheville at a program Saturday evening for his work in the Lord's Acre Proj-ian minister and religious director of Farmers Federation.

Lord's Acre program in 1930, he Stafford of Wilkesboro paid tribhas helped spread the project ute to the Rev. Mr. Clarke in adfrom a few churches in Western dresses during the program.

"BEAUTY QUEEN WANTED: Suggestions as to candidates urgently wanted at the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce. Trip to Hendersonville assured, with lots of entertainment and other gaiety. Chance to be crowned queen of North Carolina Apple Festival at Hendersonville the week of August 29."

As is usual, sponsors of Hendersonville's apple festival have invited a representative from this area to compete for the title of queen. The Chamber, also as usual, has accepted and has promised the presence of one of the scetion's talented belles.

However, between the brisk tourist season, Saturday's horse show and the customary industrial promotion, officials of the Chamber hayen't had time to put their minds to the task of picking the contestant.

So they are wide open for recommendations . . . Anybody know of a good beauty queen candidate?
