

Homecoming Day Services Held At Oak Grove Church

The annual homecoming day services held Sunday at the Oak Grove Baptist Church was well attended, with a number of former residents returning for the occasion.

F. E. Shull, a teacher in the Canton Presbyterian Church school, led the Sunday school lesson discussion, beginning at 10 a. m., and at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Garrett Propst, newly appointed pastor, brought the message. Several from the Methodist Church joined in for the picnic lunch tour and remaining services of the day.

Cecil Young was in charge of the afternoon program, and presented several singing groups, as well as individuals who led congregational numbers.

Representatives of some of the older families of the community were recognized during the afternoon, including the Harris and Willis families, whose parents were among the founders of the church; the Sorrells family, and others.

Among those attending homecoming were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Green and daughter of Shelby, Dr. Frank Holland of Charlotte, Herbert Holland of Forest City, Mr. and Mrs. Harren, Mrs. Maggie Anders, Mrs. Sallie Moore, Mrs. Emma Davis, Mrs. Onalee Robinson, all of Asheville; Mrs. Spencer Walker of Brevard, Miss Neely Ford of Barium Springs, Mrs. John

Selling Program Will Be Staged Here Sept. 17th

Local sales people will have an opportunity the week of September 17 to increase their sales and personal efficiency by attending a sales course, "Let's Analyze and Sell," offered by the Distributive Education Service of the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

The course is being sponsored by the Merchants Association Division of the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce, with the Waynesville Public Schools cooperating.

An organizational committee met with A. D. Harrison, president of the Waynesville Merchants Association to organize and promote the class. Attending the meeting were Mrs. C. J. Reece, Hye Sheptowitch, Hugh Massie, J. C. Jennings, Frank R. Moore, N. J. Tucker and P. M. Sinclair, training specialist of the State Distributive Education Service. L. B. Leatherwood, superintendent of Haywood County schools, is assisting with the program, but was unable to attend the meeting because of the opening of schools on Tuesday.

"Let's Analyze and Sell" will be taught by P. M. Sinclair, who has had several years experience in sales work and has taught this course and several others in the field of distribution during the current year as a member of the North Carolina Distributive Education Service. He taught a sales course at the Management Institute of the Credit Bureau, Merchants Association, and Collection Service held at the University of North Carolina earlier this month.

He is a graduate of Davidson College and has done graduate work at the University of North Carolina in Commerce and Psychology. He has taught at Davidson, Catawba, and Mississippi State

Both N.C. Senators Back Pearsall School Program

Both of North Carolina's United States Senators say they are voting for the Public School Amendment on September 8.

Senator Sam Ervin said in a statement that he believes that the Pearsall Plan is the best one thus far advanced for the preservation of North Carolina's public schools. He and Governor Hodges will appear publicly in Charlotte next Monday in behalf of the amendment.

Senator Kerr Scott said before leaving on a trip to Panama that he will return in time for the special election or will vote absentee.

"I take the position," he said, "that our Senators and Representatives from throughout the State in bringing together their view points have agreed that the plan is all right. They have given close attention to it. For that reason I am casting my ballot for its passage."

Several Attend Reunion In Greenville

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bridges several days last week were in Greenville, S. C., for the annual Bridges Reunion. The annual reunion was held in Greenville on Sunday. They returned Sunday with their son and daughter-in-law and Mrs. Henry Y. Bridges of Charlotte.

Among those attending reunion on Sunday were Mrs. Frank Albright, Mrs. Burress, Mrs. Addie Knox, Ben Maxwell, all of Waynesville.

Scott's campaign manager, Senator Terry Sanford of Asheville, is making speeches in behalf of the amendment.

Citrus Fruits Boast A Tangy Freshness

By ALICE DENHOFF

THE tart, fresh flavor of citrus fruit is always appreciated and never more so than during the winter months.

Lemon has always been well-known as a pick-up for flagging appetites. Its sharp, tangy taste adds zest to bland foods.

And so, to counteract all the rich desserts and goodies we have had recently and to help the cause of good health, here are some delicious desserts bright with lemon.

Lemon Sponge
Baked Lemon Sponge to serve 6: Sift 1/2 c. sugar with 1/4 c. sifted, all-purpose flour and 1/4 tsp. salt. Beat 3 egg yolks with 1 c. milk and add to flour mixture. Stir in 2 tsp. melted butter, 2 tsp. grated lemon rind and 1/4 c. fresh lemon juice.

Beat 2 egg whites until stiff, into which gradually beat 1/4 c. sugar. Carefully fold into liquid mixture.

Turn into an ungreased 1 qt. casserole. Place in pan of hot water. Bake at 325° F. for 45 min.

or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

For 10 meringue treats, prepare meringues as follows:

Combine 4 egg whites and 1/4 tsp. salt. Beat until foamy. Add 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar and beat until stiff. Gradually beat in 1 c. sugar. Drop in mounds, a heaping tablespoon at a time, onto brown paper. Make a depression in center of each with the back of a spoon. Place on a wooden board.

Bake in very slow oven (275° F.) 3 hrs. or until done. Remove from paper and cool.

Fill center with lemon cream filling just before serving.

If desired, garnish with unsweetened whipped cream and grated lemon rind.

For filling, combine 4 egg yolks, 1/2 c. sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/4 c. fresh lemon juice in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until thickened, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and cool. Stir in 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind. Fold in 1/2 c. heavy cream, whipped.
