Problem Solver

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—There's no problem too hard to crack in the office of Probate Clerk Esther Simkins.

When metal clasps on some records are too tough for ordinary fingers to open, "We just take an old nutcracker and come down on 'em," a deputy clerk said.

Ministers Ask 'Tolerance' On Segregation Questions, Adopt Five-Point Program

The Haywood Ministerial Association, meeting in Clyde Monday, adopted a five-point pledge against racial violence. The program was adopted unanimously, and was the same as recently adopted by the Christian Life Commission of the Baptist General Convention in Texas, it asked:

"Christians of all faiths to join Baptists to behave with charity and good will towards all persons in a time of racial crisis; not to engage in, nor to encourage, any action involving or implying violence; not to join with any group in actions which a person would not carry out openly as an individual; to encourage moderation and patience at all times by word and action; and to show friendship and consideration for persons of all races with whom a person is associated."

Rev. James Y. Perry, Jr., president, presented a recent communication from the North Carolina Council of Churches, Durham, in dealing with the recently adopted

Pearsall Plan, the Council urged all Christian leaders to "guard against those situations which might, under the Pearsall Plan, result in the closing of portions of our Public School System. Aware of the blessings we have received under our Public School System, and equally aware of the dangers inherent in any attempt to substitute a system of Private Schools, we must be active participants in the contest wherever the desirability of maintaining Public Schools is questioned."

Attention was called to the date of December the 1st as a National Safe-Driving Day set up by The American Temperance Society with the slogan "Safety Demands Sober Drivers" bumper strips, it was learned, are available by writing the Temperance Society, Charlotte.

The Council also urged that Reformation Sunday, October 28th be observed either on an individual church basis or by holding a community-wide service. The president appointed the Rev. Earl Brendall of Waynesville and the Rev. Cecil Heflin of Canton, to explore possibilities of having a Union Service on the theme of the Reformation.

The Council also urged that ministers give serious consideration of putting a Christian emphasis on the celebration of Halloween by the promotion of Youth Trick or Treat projects for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program). This program, begun, continued and administered by the churches has given relief

Conference Set At Charlotte On Small Business

Executives of industries and other business owners in Haywood County have been invited to attend a special conference on small business at Charlotte October 11, which will deal with the steps necessary for receiving government contracts.

The conference, scheduled at the National Guard Armory, adjacent to the airport, is under the joint sponsorship of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce and the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce.

The conference will open at 9:30 a.m. with welcoming addresses by Governor Luther Hodges of North Carolina and Ernest F. Hollings, lieutenant governor of South Carolina. Afterwards, representatives of several civilian and military agencies of the U. S. government will discuss the awarding of government contracts.

After a luncheon at the Armory, starting at 12:30, the afternoon will be devoted to the viewing of many exhibits prepared by government purchasing offices and private contractors. There also will be available for examination and review approximately $20,000,000 worth of current bid invitations to thousands of children, war widows and refugees in foreign lands. It was felt that gifts to CROP could be greatly increased by celebrating Halloween in this way.

The program was concluded by a brief address from Mr. Vokes of Champion Paper and Fibre Company in support of the United Fund as the best possible way a community can meet its growing social needs and charities.

and representatives will be on hand to explain procedures for submitting bids.

Those attending will be able to consult with purchasing officers of military and civilian government agencies and private contractors who will explain how to qualify as a supplier.

The Waynesville area was recently among those areas in North Carolina designated as a labor surplus area and under present federal regulations, industries and businesses in this section are eligible for priorities in the awarding of government contracts.

Minister To Teach Boys How To Make Crystal Sets

The Rev. L. S. Hoover, pastor of the Free Methodist Church, will begin demonstrations in making crystal sets for the boys between the ages of 10 to 14 on Saturday, October 6 at 10 a.m.

The crystal sets can be produced very cheaply and the local radio station can be picked up on them. Crystal sets have no battery, but are made with crystal, coil and contain a phone.

Mr. Hoover will begin with his Sunday School class of boys, and other boys who are interested are invited to come to The Free Methodist Church on Saturday when the classes in making the crystal sets will begin.

Mr. Hoover has had for his hobby the making of these sets since 1915 and many of them are as small as 1 1/4 x 1 1/4 inches.

Many of the boys he has taught to make the sets have gone to college and become engineers from the interest they first received from his classes. Other boys own their own radio shops.

Many of the boys keep in touch with Mr. Hoover. He says that to give them something to do will keep them out of mischief and help them to get an interest in something which will mean a great deal to them in later life.

Mr. Hoover, as a radio experimenter, invented the smallest tube set ever made in 1938.
