United Fund Hits $15,000 Here Today

The United Fund receipts were above the $15,000 mark today, which included a partial report from Industry, according to Charlie Woodard, campaign chairman.

A number of volunteer solicitors were slated to make reports this weekend, and others have called and said their reports would be in early next week.

The $31,297 goal is being sought for the 14 participating agencies.

The personnel of Lake Junaluska Assembly was added to the 100 per cent group this morning, and a number of other firms are expected to be included within the week.

A number of firms have been working hard on the campaign during the past few days, and several volunteer workers said they were nearing their goal.

Mrs. Raymond Caldwell, secretary, said it was important that the volunteer workers make a report just as soon as possible, in order to simplify the office work.

Russell Fultz, president, said he had heard of several encouraging reports from over the area as to the campaign.

C-I. D. Seed Team Takes Top Place In District Meet

Three Haywood seed judging teams won in the district FFA Seeding Judging Contest held in Sylva Tuesday.

The 4-member Crabtree-Iron Duff team won first place, with Clyde second, and Fines Creek third.

The Crabtree-Iron Duff team, coached by B. F. Nesbitt, is composed of Terry Rogers, Dan Best, Marvin Downs and Jerry Crawford. They will enter the state contest in Raleigh in the spring.

Eight teams participated in the contest Tuesday, from Haywood and Jackson county schools.

BULLETIN

C. E. Weatherby of Waynesville High School told The Mountaineer at 2:30 p.m. today that the Brevard-Waynesville game, originally scheduled at 8 p.m. tonight at the WTHS stadium, has been postponed until Monday night at 8.

The change was made by agreement of officials from both schools.

Still scheduled as The Mountaineer went to press Thursday afternoon were Hendersonville at Canton and Clyde at Tryon Friday night, and Bethel at Christ School Saturday afternoon.

Sports Galore In Haywood

Sportsmen will find plenty of activity in their field this weekend in Haywood. Besides bear hunting, there will be football, and a horse show.

Monday night Waynesville vs. Brevard in WTHS stadium.

Friday night, Canton meets Hendersonville in Canton, Clyde will be in Tryon, and Bethel goes to Christ School Saturday afternoon.

At 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday an all-western horse show will be held at the Recreation Center ring.

2nd Community Auction Slated Saturday Morning

Last week various items of equipment no longer being used brought their owners, a total of $475.50 at the county's first community auction held on the courthouse parking lot.

County residents have been asked to bring to the auction farm equipment, livestock, household furnishings and appliances, wearing apparel, sports goods, automotive equipment, and other useful items.

A small charge is made for the sale of each item — with all auction fees going into the Waynesville area Recreation Fund.

Again acting as the auctioneer will be Phillip Cronkite, manager of Farmers Market at Hendersonville.

Sponsors of the auction here are the Chamber of Commerce (See Auction—Page 8)

KYLE HAYES of North Wilkesboro, Republican candidate for governor, will head a GOP caravan on its trip through Western North Carolina, including a stop in Waynesville about noon Friday.

Republican Caravan Due Here Friday

Kyle Hayes of North Wilkesboro, Republican candidate for governor, will head the GOP Caravan on its visit here while touring the state.

The caravan will visit Waynesville Friday at noon.

Candidate Hayes, lawyer, business man and farmer, is waging an intensive campaign from "Mantoo to Murphy" in an effort to defeat Governor Hodges.

The caravan includes State GOP Chairman Ray Jennings and Joel Johnson, candidate for U. S. Senate, congressional, legislative and county candidates in the areas visited.

Mr. Hayes is advocating a 20 per cent increase in pay for teachers and highway patrolmen, increase (See GOP Plans—Page 8)

Carswell To Head Egg Producers

K. O. Carswell of Thickety was elected temporary president of a group of commercial egg producers in Haywood County who are currently planning the organization of marketing cooperation.

An organizational meeting for an egg-producers association will be held within the next two weeks, it has been announced at the first meeting of the group last night at the courthouse.

In the meantime, the county farm agent's staff has been asked to check on possible markets — both in and outside the county — for the egg producers.

It was also indicated at the meeting last night that the producers association probably will adopt a brand name for their eggs, and a uniform system of grading and packing.

County Agent Virgil L. Holloway has estimated that the county now has only 30 commercial egg producers, but probably would have to have 100 producers with flocks of not less than 500 hens in order to operate efficiently.

He said that although more producers are needed, persons should not enter the poultry business now unless they are willing to do a good job with their enterprise and stay with it "year in and year out."

Mr. Holloway pointed out that a (See Carswell—Page 8)

Crabtree Cannery To Close Oct. 24

The Crabtree cannery will be open for the last time this season next Wednesday, October 24, it has been announced.

Other county canneries have already closed, or will close this week.

Hazelwood's Finer Carolina Program To Be Featured

A special 8-page section of The Mountaineer will be published Monday, featuring Hazelwood's work in the Finer Carolina Program.

The edition will carry many pictures and stories of projects, and community-wide events, which have been sponsored by the Finer Carolina Program committee.

Mayor Lawrence Davis, chairman, said today after "a preview of the section" — it is far beyond all expectations — I want a number of extra copies."

Extra copies can be had by placing orders now. The papers will be mailed to any address for 10 cents per copy. The order (plus address) and money can be left at the Town Hall, Hazelwood, or at The Mountaineer.

Sorry, no telephone orders to either place.

Unagusta To Show Larger, New Lines In High Point

Unagusta Manufacturing Corporation will show the largest line of bedroom and dining room furniture on the High Point show, starting Saturday, that has been presented by the 54-year-old concern.

Today 35 salesmen of the firm, plus the local officials, went into details of the eight suites which will be shown at High Point. The sales group also inspected the new plant, but most of the time was spent going over the new lines, and much enthusiasm was displayed over the offerings.

Bill Prevost, executive vice president, said the Unagusta displays would be a more complete, and diversified line of "Forward Furniture" than had ever been offered by the firm, which is recognized as (See Unagusta—Page 2)

Clothing Closet Needs Re-Stocking To Meet Demands

Children's clothing is desperately needed at the Clothing Closet, according to Miss Pearl Harris, a member of the distribution committee.

Miss Harris stated that the Closet was unable to meet many requests made at the regular distribution day, Tuesday, of this week.

The public is requested to leave donations at the distribution center in the basement of the Court- (See Clothing Closet—Page 2)

Group Organized To Push Vote For Agricultural Center

An organization has been formulated for getting out a big vote favoring the establishment of an agricultural center in Haywood — a Livestock and Home Arts Show, as frequently called in acts passing through the General Assembly.

A group met Monday night and completed plans for the campaign, with representatives of Canton, Beavertown, Iron Duff, Crabtree, Fines Creek, Clyde, Waynesville, and Saunook present.

Ned Tucker, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce was named general chairman of the organization favoring the establishment of an agricultural center in the county.

The proposal as set forth in the act of the 1955 General Assembly provides that the county commissioners can levy a tax not to exceed three cents per $100 valuation for the construction and maintenance of an agricultural center.

Leaders of the proposal point out that the need of such a center is greater now than ever, since no place is now provided in Haywood for the showing of cattle.

The women have shown unusual interest in the project, since it would provide space for them to hold meetings, and stage their exhibits. The women have also been discussing the urgent need for a curb market in the county, where they could sell much of their produce, flowers, canned goods, and crafts.

Tucker said today that the campaign would be carried on through established organizations throughout the county.

"We are asking each organization to name a large committee, and set up plans for a house-to-house canvass in the community, handing out educational matter that will explain the need of the agricultural center," he said.

The county has $7,553 in the special fund now for the project, with $5,500 being contributed by two industries, and $1,853 collected through a tax levy in 1953.

ASC Election Slated Tuesday

The annual election of ASC community committeemen will be held Tuesday, October 23, at 12 polling places throughout the county, it has been announced by A. W. Ferguson, ASC manager.

Three committeemen and two alternates will be elected in each community, and the successful candidates will meet later in Waynesville to choose a county ASC committee.

Give Once For All — The United Way

"Whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him two."

Last year this community rose to the full height to meet the challenge of civic responsibility — and now this community is traveling over the "second mile," as the second United Fund campaign is well under way. We are asking citizens to give generously as we travel the second mile in behalf of the 14 agencies who will participate in the campaign.

A goal of $31,297 is being sought to carry on the work of the 14 community service organizations. But the real goal lies beyond and above the money needed to underwrite this week — the real goal is service.

There is not one of us who would not gladly lose a day from work in order to help a crippled child to walk once again; to save the threatened sight of our neighbor, or to give new hope to other sufferers. But we do not have to lose this day from work to accomplish this — our service organizations will gladly do this for us if we will but give to them the equivalent of one day's income — if each of us will donate eight hours pay to the United Fund this great civic need will be met.

The United Fund is a fair share appeal. Each citizen is asked to give only his just proportion of the total need. The help is rendered to our neighbor in distress, to our children and the aged.

The charge is on each one of us to make our fair share gift, to make this year's United Fund appeal a new proof of fully accepted community responsibility. It is our best opportunity for rendering the "Second Mile" service which has been recommended to us by scripture.

Give once for all—the United Way!

Honorary Tar Heels Meeting At Cataloochee

Fourteen Honorary Tar Heels arrived today to spend the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Alexander at Cataloochee Ranch.

In the group are two from Pittsburgh, four from Philadelphia, two from Atlanta, one from Clearwater, and two from New York. Accompanying the honorary members are Bill Sharpe, editor of The State Magazine; Hugh Morton, chairman of advertising for the Department of Conservation and Development; Ed Kirk, assistant director of Conservation and Development; and Ed Rankin, secretary to Governor Hodges, who will present certificates of awards Friday night. Three photographers are also on hand.

The Honorary Tar Heels, organized by Bill Sharpe in 1946, are writers and photographers on national publications who have been assigned at different times to work in North Carolina.

The 1949 meeting of the group was also held at Cataloochee Ranch.
