

Newly Modernized Farmers Federation Store Here To Stage Week-Long Opening

By BOB BEARD

The Farmers Federation retail service store on Depot Street has been completely remodeled, enabling the management to offer better service to Haywood customers and patrons. It has been announced by Guy M. Sales, General Manager of the 36-year-old farm cooperative. The week of November 11th has been set aside as a special opening for the remodeled building.

In addition the adjoining Farmers Federation Freezer Locker managed by Ben Owenby will offer specials on a number of freezer locker and home freezer items. Assisting Ben are Bill Crawford and Billie Greene.

Haywood Federation Started in 1934

On February 1, 1934 the Haywood County Farmers Federation merged and became part of the Farmers Federation, Inc. which leased the building. This gave the Federation two Haywood County stores at Canton managed by the late Ben Terrell and at Waynesville managed by George Brown.

C. F. Rhinehart, manager of the old Haywood County Farmers Federation, became the Federation's first full time purchasing agent.

As the result of a stock subscription campaign in the county, over 300 Haywood farmers and residents became members of the Farmers Federation.

Today there are over 2,000 members in all Haywood County. In 1944 the Federation bought the leased building at Waynesville, sold more stock, remodeled the building and built the Freezer Locker Plant which opened for business in 1945.

Haywood County Farmers Federation directors are Herschel Hipps, Rt. 1, Canton and P. A. Justice, Rt. 1, Clyde.

Members of the Farmers Federation store committee are: W. K. Boone, Rt. 1; D. J. Boyd, Rt. 2; Glenn Boyd, Rt. 2; Julie Boyd, Rt. 2; Will Bradshaw, Rt. 1; Clyde; John Carver, Rt. 2; N. W. Carver, Rt. 2.

MORE ABOUT Ed Adams

the good with the bad, and just try to keep the public happy."

Ed thinks nothing of the police knocking at his door at night to report trouble that has developed along some water or sewer line.

When Ed went to work for the town 30 years ago the "pick axe system" was used and the stock of tools to work with was almost limited to a pick, shovel, and three wrenches.

"Everytime we had to thread a two-inch pipe we had to go to a plumber and borrow a threader and our stock of wrenches was three—10, 14 and 24-inch Stilson. It was not until 1940 that we got a 36-inch wrench, and we got that after the plumber we had borrowed from so long told me to get some tools of my own."

"We did not even have a pipe vise until 1937. Now it is my job to be sure we have enough pipe and supplies on hand for all breakdowns. I make up the list and Mr. Ferguson puts in the orders," Ed explained.

Back in the mid-thirties, when the bridge across Depot was being built, a 6-inch main line was broken by a cave-in. The contractor for the bridge put in a call to the Town for a crew to come fix it at his expense. I was the only man available, so I went down. The man kept looking at me, and finally said, "what do you know about fixing pipes—nobody you up here in the hills knows enough about water lines to fix one like this." I just went ahead, and fixed the line by jamming a 4-inch line inside the six and stopping up the sides. It worked until we could get a 6-inch link. The man looked funny when the job was finished. I had to do the best I could, because everyone on the other side of the creek were without water."

Almost every meter in town has been installed by Ed, because there were not too many meters when he went to work for the Town.

It was a red letter day for Ed when the Town bought an air compressor to be used in breaking pavement. Up to that time it was a matter of swinging a 16-pound hammer to get through the pavement to repair or install pipes.

Almost all water line ditches are now dug with machines, which save time and money.

When we found Ed he was working on the East Street - Hospital link of a water and sewer line installation. There were eight men on the job, and Ed pointed out that they were putting down about 1,000 feet a day. Back in the days before mechanical aids, there would have to be about 25 men on the job to accomplish as much.

Ed started to work under C. C. Logan, then Oscar Briggs, Bradford Mehalley, Robert Hugh Clark, and now G. C. Ferguson, town manager. When he first went to work for the Town, the street and light department had one truck—a Model T Ford which they shared. Ed helped put up light poles—by hand—and strung wire. He was glad when the departments were separated, and he was assigned to the water department.

"When you slip and get wet, or muddy in your work with the water department, you can clean up and dry off. Sometimes when you slip in the electrical department, they pick you up, and there ain't no fixing. I like my job best of all. You have to stay on the ball, and be ready to go all the time, and be careful of your work; be-

DEATHS

MRS. DEWEY MESSER

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the Barberville Baptist Church for Mrs. Iva Hill Messer, 54, who died unexpectedly of a heart attack Thursday afternoon at her home.

The Rev. Paul Mull and the Rev. Jarvis Underwood officiated and burial was in Hillcrest Memorial Gardens.

Pallbearers were France and Sam Milner, Jake Schuhofer, Roy Hightowers, Floyd McClure, and Tommy Caldwell.

Mrs. Messer was the former Miss Iva Hill, a native of Haywood County. She was a member of Barberville Baptist Church.

Her twin sister, Mrs. Carswell, died of a heart attack a year ago.

Surviving are the husband; three daughters, Mrs. Homer Thompson of Canton, Mrs. Nick Favara of Alta Loma, Calif.; and Mrs. Frank Curtis of Waynesville, Route 1; two sons, Leonard Messer of Dayton, Ohio, and Richard of the home; five brothers, Fletcher, John, and Roe Hill of Waynesville, and Nathan and Ed Hill of Newport News, Va.; a sister, Mrs. Louise Sherrill of Waynesville; and 11 grandchildren.

Arrangements were under the direction of Garrett Funeral Home.

cause the smallest mistake will mean trouble later," Ed continued. Ed saw the men had caught up with their assignment, so he yelled: "Let's go—double up here—roll it off easy."

Another 18-foot link of cast iron pipe went into place in the 3-foot ditch.

In a wink Ed had his head down on the ground checking the joint. Giving it the OK, Ed called for the second 18-foot pipe. It was shoved into place, and Ed yelled: "A bust."

He had spotted a small crack right at the end of the pipe.

Two other men looked. One couldn't see it, which caused Ed to remark:

"And they tell me I need glasses. Why I can see that crack from where I stand."

A reporter put on his bifocals, and got down close to the pipe to see the broken place.

The reporter squinted and strained, but never found the flaw. Ed laughed—"It's a big 'un—that's the reason you have to be on the ball in this business."

W. F. ALGARY of Asheville, principal speaker at the CDP meeting here last week, praised Haywood County communities for their achievements in bringing "a better life" to rural areas.

a heart attack. She was a daughter of the late William and Eric Baker Buchanan of Swain County.

Mrs. Brogdon was a member of Hazelwood Methodist Church and was the widow of Jule Brogdon, who died seven years ago.

Surviving in addition to Mrs. Henry are another daughter, Mrs. Edward Tittle of Hazelwood; two sons, John Brogdon of Stanley, and James Brogdon of Johnson City, Tenn.; and six grandchildren.

Also surviving are six sisters, Mrs. Lelia Monques of Cummings, Ga.; Mrs. O. L. Reynolds of Canton, Mrs. Arthur McMillan and Mrs. Albert Lequire of Bryson City, Mrs. Fred Emory of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Robert Welch of Franklin; and three brothers, S. A. and W. E. Buchanan of Gastonia, and G. E. Buchanan of Franklin.

Funeral services were held in Hazelwood Methodist Church this afternoon.

The Rev. Mrs. M. B. Lee officiated assisted by the Rev. L. E. Wiggins.

Burial was in Bryson City Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Terry Gibson, Jack Henry, Harry Edwards, Fred Tittle, Houston Buchanan and Ed Brogdon.

Granddaughters and nieces were flower bearers.

Arrangements were under the direction of Crawford Funeral Home.

PITTMAN INFANT

Funeral services for Ronald DeWayne Pittman, three-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pittman of Canton, Rt. 2, who died Sunday at 12:40 a.m., were held Sunday afternoon in the Spring Hill Baptist Church.

The Rev. Thomas A. Gales officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

In addition to the parents, survivors are the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Dixon of Canton; and the paternal grandfather, G. P. Pittman of Fletcher.

eers, (2) one of the leading scenic areas in the entire U. S., (3) a fine climate, (4) pure air and pure water.

Discussing future goals for Western North Carolina, Mr. Algary said Western North Carolina needs: (1) more industrial payrolls, (2) a stronger effort to draw tourists and keep them here longer once they arrive, (3) more diversification of agriculture, expansion and marketing facilities, (4) better roads and highways, and (5) better air transportation.

Mr. Algary was introduced by Frank Davis of Iron Duff, who was later elected president of the CDP Council. In his brief remarks, Mr. Davis said: "We have come a long way in our CDP program," and added that the fame of the county's work in community development has spread throughout North Carolina and the entire South.

Musical numbers presented at the meeting Thursday night included a solo, "I'll Whistle a Tune" by Rosalind Ammons, accompanied by Linda Boone. No One Stands Alone" by the Allen Creek Trio, and string band music by the Pigeon Valley Ramblers.

Jefferson Standard Pays 4%* Interest On Policy Proceeds Left With The Company To Provide Income.

Jefferson Standard's investment record is outstanding in the life insurance industry. Expert management makes every investment dollar yield its greatest safe return. Jefferson Standard's excellent interest return has made it possible to provide greatly increased income dollars to the policyholder or beneficiary.

HERE'S AN ACTUAL CASH COMPARISON

John Blake Thought Of The Future

Mr. Blake died leaving $20,000 life insurance to provide income for his wife. This arrangement provided for a 2 1/2% interest rate on funds held in trust for beneficiaries.

When Blake died, his wife received $100.00 a month from his life insurance.

Charles White Thought Of The Future, Too.

Mr. White died leaving $20,000 life insurance, BUT Mr. White's life insurance was with the Jefferson Standard which pays 4% (guaranteed 2 1/2%*) on funds held in trust for beneficiaries.

When White died, his wife received $100.00 a month, too, from his life insurance.

HERE'S THE DIFFERENCE

At the end of 21 years and 5 months, the payments to Mrs. Blake stopped.

At the end of 21 years and 5 months, Mrs. White could look forward to 5 years and 6 months more of $100.00 per month payments. She received $6,600 MORE in all from the Jefferson Standard.
