The New Heaven and Earth

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Revelation 21.

St. John, the last of the 12 Apostles, went to the island of Patmos, located in the Aegean sea, and there saw a great vision of the New Jerusalem descending from heaven.

John wrote as he was bidden: "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea."

Then John wrote, he saw the Holy City, the New Jerusalem coming down from God out of heaven, and a great voice said, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men."

God Himself will dwell with His people, and He will wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there will be no more death.

MEMORY VERSE—Revelation 21:3, 4.

Bible Words for Today

ST. LUKE 4:16, HEBREWS 10:25—"And, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day," "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is," (King James Version)

When Roger W. Babson made his statistical study of church attendance more than twenty years ago, he found that on a nationwide basis on an average Sunday in an average church about one-third of its members would be present. A similar survey made in 1955 indicated some improvement, one-half of the church members of the country attending church on an average Sunday.

The habit of "absence from the house of God" began less than fifty years after the time of Christ, as the clause from the Epistle to the Hebrews indicates. But the habit of the Master stands as the perpetual rebuke of the absentees; for if ever there waiked the earth one who might justly have said, "I can worship God just as well without going to church," it was He. But, as St. Luke records it, going to the synagogue on the sabbath day was a habit with Jesus.

Home for the Holidays...

Every Christmas time, we welcome back many Carolinians who have migrated to other areas of the country to seek their fortune. At Christmas, more than at any other time, it means so much to be "home for the holidays." Home... to be with the family for a short while. Home... to visit old friends again. Home... to re-evaluate the home town.

Now is the time for us to re-evaluate also, with a specific aim of keeping the present younger generation in the Carolinas and bringing those who have left... "home" to stay.

We are producing potential good citizens in Carolina schools, colleges and universities. Doctors, lawyers, teachers, architects, engineers—

... the business and professional leadership which will mold our future. But, they are going away from the Carolinas to larger incomes... more opportunity.

How can we keep them here? Each person in each community can share the responsibility and the place to start is with a community cooperative effort... adequate municipal facilities... well kept houses... clean streets... churches... schools... parks... good stores and most of all... a progressive spirit... civic pride.

Then we may attract new industry and business which will provide the opportunity our young people are looking for... and bring the others "home" to stay.
