

County Agent Expects Weed Contract Forms Soon; Cotton Agreements Are Here Now

By L. L. McLENDON

Contract forms in connection with 1935 and 1936 contracts that were in force in 1934 will soon be in the County Agent's office and each contract signer will receive notice of the time and place that the County Agent's office and each contract signer will meet them in his respective township to sign the forms necessary to keep his contract in force during 1935. It is necessary that each contract signer sign these new forms at the place and at the time designated. This time will be limited and once orders are received from Washington to end the signing it will probably not be extended. Notice of the time and place will be published in this paper and contract signers also will be notified by letter.

In all probability no tax-exemption certificates will be issued to those cotton growers who do not sign a contract in 1935 and are eligible to sign. All cotton growers that have not signed a contract should consult with their local commissionmen and sign the contract if they are eligible. Only forms for those contract signers living in Kenansville township will be made out in the Agent's office, and no forms will be made out until the designated time. Only transfer and change of Legal Status forms will be made out in the Agent's office.

The cotton form for transferring of acreage and change of Legal Status have been received in the office of the County Agent at Kenansville.

It will be necessary for all persons who have bought land or in any other way come in possession of land on which there is a cotton base, for them to either write new contracts or to change the existing contracts to those now being made out. The filling out of these forms will have to be done in the office at Kenansville and it is advisable that this be done at once in order that the contract signer may know at an early date the amount of cotton he can plant.

In cases of the purchase of a part of a tract of land covered by a contract or in a subdivision of land among purchasers or heirs, if convenient it would save considerable time if all persons interested would come to the office and agree on the base acreage of each division and sign the forms necessary in the changing of the contract.

Warsaw Again Visited By Thieves

Tuesday night two houses and a filling station were entered in Warsaw. The station entered was that of Hines and Bridgers. A little change was reported missing.

In the home of Albert Cooper the night prowlers entered his bedroom while Mr. Cooper was asleep and took $21.00 from his pockets. (In case one of the thieves should read this, that act is a capital offense, punishable by death if caught and convicted.)

John Peirce' home was also entered but at the last report nothing had been missed.

Malarial Control Project Started Under The FERA

Will Drain Low-Lying Area Between County Home And Little River

Malarial control drainage project, a part of the FERA malarial control program in North Carolina was launched in the low-lying area between the county home and the Little River Tuesday morning, J. L. Murphy, project supervisor for the Wayne-Duplin FERA district has announced.

The system of drainage ditches will begin on a part of the county home property, will pass through the Maripita on property adjacent to the county home, and will continue on to empty eventually into the Little River.

The exact number of men to be employed on the project has not yet been definitely determined. Several will be worked on the initial stages of the project, and others will be employed as the work gets fully under way. Several weeks will probably be required for completion of the project.

Senior Play Wed

The Senior Class of the Kenansville High School will present a play entitled "Bound to Marry" next Wednesday evening at 8:00 in the high school auditorium here. The cast is taken from the Senior Class a class which already has the reputation of giving good plays, and we feel sure that this will be up to par. The play is being coached by Mrs. Pearl McGowan. The public is invited to attend and get a good laugh to start the spring right. The admission price will be 15 and 25 cents.

100 Wayne-Duplin Families Placed On Farms By FERA

Approximately 100 Wayne and Duplin County families have been placed on farms leased and supervised by the Rural Rehabilitation Corporation the office District Farm Supervisor, Ben Southerland reported Tuesday.

A majority of this number were white, but several of the government tenants are colored and it is the opinion of officials connected with this division of Federal work that all will be on a self-sustaining basis when crops are laid by this year.

In Wayne county the "Kentucky Farms", and on others on the Mt. Olive highway has been leased and there are about 60 families located there. The Fuller farms adjoining the "Kentucky Farm" property has also been leased and will provide employment and a livelihood of 10 to 14 families.

Mrs. Boney, County Welfare Agent and the DUPLIN TIMES are anxious to raise approximately thirty-five dollars. If you don't believe it is a good cause just read this:

Earl Harrison, 31 year old young man of Chinquapin, has lived 16 years of his life practically doubled. A short time ago he was carried to Duke Hospital and at the time his head almost touched his feet. Doctors at Duke corrected his ailment but stated that it would be necessary for him to wear braces and especially fitted shoes if he is to continue living as practically a normal person. Mr. Harrison is not able, nor are his people able, to buy the necessary braces and shoes. Braces will cost $30.00 and shoes $5.15. If you readers have a desire to really help one who is in need, help a person to get some pleasure out of living, you are asked to contribute towards raising this small amount. It is small when we think of a person's health. The Times begins the donations with one ($1.00) dollar. Who will be next.
