

The Duplin Presents Two Unusual Attractions For It's Next Week's Features

Jane Withers, the kid who imitated a machine gun, told tales on Shirley Temple, tried to run her down with a doll carriage and proved herself quite a complete annoyance in "Bright Eyes" has the title role in Fox Film's latest comedy success "Ginger" which will play at the Duplin next Monday and Tuesday.

Little Miss Withers sets a new style in comedy entertainment in "Ginger," which kept Hollywood and New York preview audiences in continual laughs and caused the prediction that the film is a great beginning for what looks like a great career.

Little Jane registers a million dollars worth of personality and talent in her new picture, and Duplin audiences are assured that they will love her as much in this story as they hated her in "Bright Eyes."

When Jane, the little, independent, self-reliant product of Ninth Avenue is taken to the Park Avenue home of the pampered Jackie Searl, there's a swell clash with a world of comedy. O. P. Heggie gives an outstanding performance as Jane's foster-uncle and Katherine Alexander and Walter King provide an unusual romance as Jackie Searl's parents.

Dealing with a death ray which can cause destruction from almost any distance "Air Hawks," a Columbia picture featuring Ralph Bellamy, Wiley Post, Tala Birell, Douglass Dumbrille, Victor Kilian and Billie Seward, comes to the Duplin Theatre on Wednesday.

While the ray in the film is not actually the type with which scientists and military experts have been experimenting for many years it shows conclusively the manner in which the beam may be used in the future.

The story concerns two rival airlines, one headed by Ralph Bellamy competing for lucrative airmail contracts. Bellamy's rival employs a mad scientist who has perfected an infamous machine which can project the electric beam into the skies to bring down, flaming, the planes of Bellamy's company. The movie of the subsequent disaster is shown in Bellamy, but when the courage of the girl he loves and his own reckless daring merge to battle the hidden enemy, the excitement of the skies goes down before the onslaught in a novel climax.

If there was nothing to "Love Me Forever" but the divine singing of Grace Moore, the picture would be gladly recommended to every mortal the world over. But Columbia Pictures has given the sensational star a stunning background and a dramatic story that keeps one breathless and thrilled until the final fadeout.

If "Love Me Forever" must be compared with "One Night of Love" Miss Moore's first picture for Columbia, there is no hesitation in stating that the new film surpasses her former triumph. "Love Me Forever" presents a dramatic and romantic story, tense and filled with suspense, while "One Night of Love" presented merely romance.

Emphasized still more in "Love Me Forever" than in "One Night of Love" is the beautiful music. Victor Schertzinger, who made

Miss Moore's picture film and who is responsible for the success of the direction of "Love Me Forever," has composed a new hit in his "Love Me Forever" melody. It is graceful and fitting. "Love Me Forever" will appear next Thursday and Friday at the Duplin.

Editor Duplin Times

Dear Sir:

Our daily press continues to carry alarming reports, yet facts that are vital. Two years ago our State passed a law giving the people a chance to vote on a revision in our Constitution, providing for a $1,000.00 exemption for home steads. But our honorable gentlemen of our County boards thought the State had gone on record against us.

We all admit that the Sales Tax is about the fairest tax on the book. It gets the party who never paid any tax, at all. Yet we do declare that instead of raising our real estate taxes as the board has already done, they should have lowered it, as a matter of simple business economy.

I wish to say just here it seems to me that our board of commissioners are leading us to ruin in their own selfish way.

We have the future before us, and I warn and urge each citizen of Duplin and other counties to vote in our next election for the Constitutional Amendment and a new board of county government. Our county needs a conversion, a cleaning-out, and a "New Deal."

Yours truly,
A Subscriber.

Importance Of Destroying Tobacco Stalks

By L. L. McLENDON
Now that all tobacco has been harvested growers should begin to think about the control of insects and diseases of tobacco by cutting stalks and breaking land that was in tobacco this year.

This is important because of the control of horned worms, flea-beetle, and other insects and also it helps control diseases as mosaic, wilts and etc.

The stalks should be cut immediately after the harvesting is completed, then the land broke or disked before cold weather. The cutting of hot stalks destroys the food of the insects and keeps the majority of them from reaching the adult stage, and they are killed or die before going into the ground to winter.

Soon after insects reach the adult stage they go in the ground to winter and come out next Spring as a moth, which lays eggs that hatch out and eventually make next years crop of worms, beetles or insects. By breaking the land before cold weather you turn those insects that have gone into the ground up to the sun and cold which helps destroy them, thereby decreasing the possibilities of next years crop. This breaking also helps control the diseases and causes the old stalks to rot and break up more quickly.

At the time the land is broke or disked rye should be sown to put back in the soil some of the plant food taken out by the growing tobacco. If needed the rye can be used for winter grazing, to a good advantage.

$50,000 Worth of Automobile Entertainment

At 6:57, A. M., August 19th, an automobile traveling south on S. No. 127 at Sharwood, Ohio, ran into the west end of the first car behind the locomotive of eastbound perishable and merchandises train No. 64-R, enroute from Chicago to New York, certain parts of the automobile being torn off and getting under the car, resulting in its derailment and the derailment of thirty-two other loaded cars, or a total of thirty-three loaded cars, with damage to cars and loading of $44,830, and track and interlocking of $4,650, or a total damage of $48,970.

As a result of this accident the westbound track was blocked for a period of twenty-one hours and the eastbound track forty-five hours, causing serious delay to traffic, which was detoured via foreign lines at an additional cost, which will make the total cost of derailment in excess of $50,000.

This crossing is protected by a warning sign and an electric alarm crossing bell. The Conductor of the wrecked train advised that the driver of the motor-car told him that he did not hear the bell or see the train until too close as he had the radio in his automobile turned on. The car was occupied by three persons and the only personal injuries were slight cuts and bruises to two people.

This accident occurred on a double track railroad and had there been a passenger train passing or approaching on the opposite track at the time of this derailment, the result would have been very serious.

Hopson admits trying to control press with advertisements.
