

PLANTING QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED BY STATE COLLEGE

Q: How often should male birds be changed in the poultry flock?

A: This, of course, depends upon whether there is a danger of virus infection. Where this happens the male birds should be changed every year.

Q: Should fertilizer be applied to a lawn after planting?

A: If the lawn has just been seeded there is no need for any fertilizer application as this is always mixed in the soil before the seed are sown. For a year or two year old lawn an application of 500 to 800 pounds of a 4-10-4 mixture should be made either during the winter or early spring.

A: Would advise saving cottonseed meal; if you can get a desirable exchange, swap the seed for meal.

A: The feeding value of cottonseed is due to its content of meal, hulls and oil but there is a lot of dirt, lint and waste in a ton of seed.

ing an excessive amount of this oil causes scours and other digestive troubles. Livestock makes better gains when fed a palatable food and the meal is more palatable than seed.

Dr. Hundley, formerly of Dunsville, Va., is the son of Deane Hundley, lawyer and judge of the Circuit Court, and the late Mrs. Lucy Hart Hundley of Dunsville.

He graduated from the Rappahannock District High School, received his B. A. degree from Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va. and graduated from the Boston Medical College.

Following his internship in the City Hospital of Boston, he was with the North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem. For one year he was assistant physician at the State Hospital in Raleigh.

After a wedding trip to Asheville and other points of interest in Western Carolina, Dr. and Mrs. Hundley will be at home in Beaufort.

Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming Davenport entertained informally in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Hundley. Seated at opposite ends of the table Mrs. Dot Patrick and Miss Sidney Davenport, aunts of the bride poured tea. Sandwiches and salted nuts were passed by Miss Kathryn Davenport and Miss Mary Lawrence Davenport.

Much Outdoor Entertainment at State Fair

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—A triumph in outdoor entertainment will be presented at the North Carolina State Fair each evening when the glittering "Revue of Tomorrow" presents its revealing musical extravaganza, Manager J. S. Dorton declared today.

Its appearance is in line with the fair manager's policy to give Tar Heels the finest in American and European entertainment at the annual exposition October 12-16. Veteran showmen are congratulating Manager Dorton's selection of ace entertainment features, including the colorful revue which will be presented nightly at the fair, now back in State hands after several years of private operation.

Produced in New York by Geo. A. Hamid, internationally known showman, the "Revue of Tomorrow" will introduce a double line of chorus girls in a repertoire of elaborate numbers with fetching scenery elaborate costumes, sparkling lighting effects, and with sprightly tunes by its own swing band and a galaxy of choice specialty artists.

Every one of the chorus girls has performed in a theatre or night club individually or in units. They have been instructed in the "art" of working out of doors in routines especially conceived and designed for outdoor stages.

A smart series of dance numbers will feature the nightly performances of the revue at the forthcoming fair. Years of experience account for the skill and cleverness which have gone into the making of one of the nation's foremost hippodrome revues.

A pageant-like opening sends the revue off to a flying start, with a crack master of ceremonies speeding the revue along its merry way, producing thrill after thrill and fascinating effects.

Fifteen spectacular acts, all new to the State Fair, will be pre-ented each evening as well as each afternoon of fair week. On the midway will be the World of Wirth, with 22 novelty shows and 18 thrilling rides.
