EDITORIAL: This is the second accident among members of the state road crew, improving roads in this section within the past two weeks, in which treatment was not immediately given because of lack of knowledge of first aid by any member of the crew. The first accident resulted in death to a negro whose leg was crushed, reportedly from loss of blood due to failure to apply the simple measure of cording the leg. Our state departments teach safety but fail to have a man who knows first aid treatment on crews engaged in so dangerous a job as pouring hot asphalt in road repair work.

M. W. Mason, workman on the crew repairing roads in this section, was severely burned about the head and face and on his left hand Thursday when a can of gasoline which he was pouring into a heating unit for heating asphalt exploded.

The accident occurred near the depot in Kenansville, where the asphalt is heated. He was carried downtown in search of Dr. Guy V. Gooding, and received first aid treatment from Gilbert Honeycutt, at the Kenansville Drug Store, while Dr. Gooding was being found.

New Grocery for Kenansville

B. & M. Grocery and Market is the name of a new grocery store opening in Kenansville next Wednesday in the building formerly occupied by Bitterton Brothers. The store has been remodeled.

The operators are O. C. Moore and H. A. Book of the Long Creek section of Pender County, and J. A. Priddy of Atkinson. Mr. Priddy will have active charge of the store and with his wife will move here shortly.

Messrs. Moore and Book are engaged in the wholesale sausage business and will continue in that capacity in Pender County.

The new store will carry a complete line of heavy and fancy groceries and fresh meats, selling at prices low enough to compete with the chain grocery stores, it was said.

COUNTY GOSSIP

The Negro Minstrel, scheduled to be held in the Kenansville high school auditorium, Friday night has been postponed until Tuesday night, October 28th.

Rev. Frank L. Goodman, pastor of the Kenansville Presbyterian Church will conduct services here Sunday morning at his regular appointed hour. Sunday's service will be communion.

Rev. R. A. Cadle, new pastor in the Kenansville, Warsaw and Johnston Baptist Church charge, has kindly consented to write the Sunday School lesson each week for The TIMES. Rev. F. L. Goodman has been writing the lesson. Mr. Cadle's first lesson appears this week.

We wish to thank Rev. Frank Goodman of the Kenansville Presbyterian Church for his services in writing the Sunday School Lesson for the past few months.

Rev. Mr. Cadle preached his second regular sermon in Kenansville Sunday to a large audience. He made a strong impression on the audience and is fast becoming popular in Kenansville as well as in Warsaw and the Johnson Church Community.

Warsaw Drug Co. has received a ton and a half of merchandise for the one-cent sale to be held there week after next. Mr. Sheffield said this week. This is quite a pile of merchandise for a drug store sale.

It seems that The TIMES has a habit of forgetting Smith Township when it comes to activity among the Young Democrats. Last week we failed to state that Jerry Smith and Paul Williams were named on the membership committee for their township in the drive for new members.

Several weeks ago in writing up the State Young Democratic Convention in Winston-Salem we failed to list Jerry Williams as one of the Duplinites attending the convention. We are sorry, Jerry, but at last we recognize you.

Speaking of Young Democrats. Our readers among that group will be glad to learn that New Bern is planning a big time for us there on Friday of next week when the district rally is held. Latest reports from New Bern tell us that we are expected there, at the court house, about two o'clock in the afternoon when we will be taken for a historical drive over the city. At five we will gather for a feed and speaking by Arch Allen, President of the State Organization and following the speaking a dance. Via of grapevine we heard that Bob Reynolds might appear and make a talk. We are not vouching for that, however.

Capt. Jimmy Jerritt left last week for Chicago where he attended the American Association of Short Line Railroads. After the convention he went to his old home in Stillwater, Minn., for a few days. He is expected back in Kenansville early next week.

Miss Esther Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stevens of Kenansville, is in a Wilmington hospital where she underwent an operation recently. It is reported today that she has developed pneumonia and is in a critical condition.

Friends of R. G. Maxwell of Albemarle will be glad to learn that he has returned to his home from a Wilson hospital.

Work was commenced this week on a spacious office building for Dr. G. V. Gooding in Kenansville. The structure is going up opposite the Duplin Times office.

Jammie Whitfield, operator of the Amoco Service Station in Kenansville, has recently commenced construction of a six-room house on the street leading from his station to the Masonic hall.

Duplin Youths Enter Navy

C., were enlisted in the Navy, Oct. 12, 1937, both have been sent to Navy Training Station Hampton Roads, Va., where they will receive three months naval training prior to being assigned to duty in some ship of the fleet.

These boys applied for enlistment and were enlisted through the Recruiting office located in room 208 Post Office Building, Wilmington, N. C.

Sam Newton Breaks Arm

Sam Newton of Kenansville has had the misfortune to break his left arm while returning from Wilmington Saturday night. Mr. Newton had been to Wilmington on business and was returning home when the accident happened. He was meeting a car with bright lights at Washington Creek. Mr. Newton says that he was unable to see anything except the lights and did not know what was happening until his arm was hit by what he supposed to be a trailer. There was a lick on the front fender and another on the back fender of the car but the running board was not injured which seems to indicate that the trailer was swinging from one side to the other. His arm was lying in the window of his car when struck. The impact was very slight and the noise was not enough to stop the other car. Mr. Newton drove his car on to Kenansville and was given first aid there and then taken to Kinston where it was found that his arm was broken just below the elbow. Just one bone was broken, but the arm will have careful attention for several weeks.

FAISON NEWS

J.W. QUINN DIES FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN TRAIN-TRUCK CRASH

4TH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE FAISON-KENANSVILLE CHARGE

John Williams Quinn, more affectionately known as "Mr. Jack," departed this life at 10:50 Tuesday night in a Goldsboro hospital, after being carried there following a train-truck crash in which he was the victim, about two hours earlier.

Mr. Quinn had attended the picture show in Warsaw, after closing his day's work, which was his usual habit. Leaving the theatre he started home in his red pick-up Ford truck. Driving from the theatre to the Main and Hill Street crossing, at the drug store corner, the rear half of his truck was struck by a fast Coast Line passenger train, number 49, at 8:27. His truck was knocked 50 feet or more and totally demolished. Mr. Quinn was not thrown from the truck. He was taken out in an unconscious condition and rushed to the Goldsboro. At times he would rally and ask what hit him. He was told a train, but it is believed he never fully realized what happened. In the hospital he would complain of not being able to get his breath and the nurse would raise him but the pain was so severe he could not bear it. Death came at 10:50. An examination revealed that he suffered a severe cut on the head, possibly a skull fracture and internal injuries from a crushed chest.

Mr. Jack Quinn operated the Quinn-McGowan Company, furniture store and was founder and secretary of the Duplin Burial Association in Warsaw. He was a brother to the famous Quinn Brothers in North Carolina who were made famous in the business world by their successful operation of furniture stores. He was as well liked as any citizen in Duplin County and will be missed by people in every corner of Duplin. His generosity to his customers resulted in more comfortable homes in our county than any other one thing could have. He never failed a friend and was always ready and glad to help one when he possibly could. He was a home loving man and a good provider for his family.

We believe it can be said of Mr. Jack that he did not have an enemy in the world and had more friends than possibly any man in Duplin County. His life was an example of modest living, spreading good cheer and being a friend of his fellowman.

Mr. Quinn was slightly deaf, and wore an earphone regularly, and it is believed that if he had not been deaf he probably would be living today.

He was born in Duplin County, near Beulaville in 1878, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen W. Quinn. He was married to Miss Mary Bell West, who survives, with one daughter, Mrs. J. T. Gresham, Jr., of Warsaw. The following brothers and sisters survive: Jerry Quinn, Kinston, Mrs. Oscar Miller, Kinston; Mrs. J. S. Miller, New Bern; Mrs. Paul Parker, Beulaville; Mrs. A. L. Cavanaugh, Warsaw.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church in Warsaw.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the home in Warsaw conducted by Rev. Mr. Jones of the Presbyterian church assisted by Rev. Cadle of the Baptist and Rev. Walters of the Methodist.

The TIMES extends sympathy to the family.

Hog Shipments

County Agent Reynolds has issued a report on the last shipment of hogs from Warsaw. 271 hogs sold brought $10.95 per hundred pounds, FOB Warsaw. The hogs were shipped to Baltimore.

According to Reynolds a majority of the hogs belonged to the top class, which was as he requested. He insists that farmers continue to feed their hogs until they reach the top class, which is 180 to 250 pounds, as that is most profitable from every angle.

Another shipment will be made October 29th., and the farmers are urged to let the county agent know two or three days previous to this in order that arrangements may be made for taking care of them.

Farms Finished

Measurements of farms for production compliance has been almost completed, according to County Agent Reynolds, with but a few left to be measured. These are expected to be finished by the first of the week.

October 31st marks the end of the period in which farmers may finish planting soil-conserving crops according to compliance terms and carry out any soil-conserving practices not yet completed.

County Agent Reynolds declares he has never before the AAA has seen such interests as the farmers have expressed in control program. He says that 90 per cent of the farmers with whom he talks are in favor of some means of continuation of control.

Woman Burns in Home

Maria Riley, respectable colored woman living between Beulaville and Hallsville was burned to death in her home last Friday afternoon. She had been visiting at the home of her daughter and had just gone home when the accident occurred. A son passing the house noticed smoke coming through a broken window light, and ran to the house. On opening the door he found his mother standing in the floor with her hair and clothes burned off. He put out the fire, and carried her to the hospital at Kinston but she was so badly burned that she died before reaching the hospital. She was about 58 years old. A few coals in the heater led the family to believe that she was trying to start a fire when her clothes caught.

Buck's Cut Rate Opens in Warsaw

In this week's issue will be found an announcement of the opening of "Buck's Cut Rate", Warsaw's new drug store.

The new business will be operated by W. M. Buck and F. F. McInerney of Warsaw. The store opens Friday in the newly remodeled building formerly occupied by the bus station. All new fixtures have been installed and a new and complete stock of the well-known Wallgreen line of drug store sundries, together with many other nationally advertised products and the Eli Lilly line of drugs.

Mr. Buck, better known as "Gib" is the son of Mrs. George Bennett of Warsaw. He attended Riverside academy in Georgia and was employed by the Jenkins Tobacco Company for a time after finishing school.

Mr. McInerney is a native of Murphy and a graduate in Pharmacy from the University of North Carolina.

Attention! Duplin Ministers

Dr. E. C. Cooper has been appointed Director of Religious Education in the prisons of the state. He wants to arrange to have a religious service in each prison camp each Sunday. Our responsibility is for the Camp at Kenansville. I am requesting that all ministers in the county who are willing to conduct one service at the Camp during the year, write to me at once, stating the Sunday of the month best suited for you to come for the service. The services will be conducted in the afternoon and should last over 45 minutes. If you could bring along some one to sing it would add to the services. Please let me hear from you at once.
