I want to thank all the observation post observers who have had a part in this duty that has made Duplin County outstanding in its efficiency and willingness to discharge these obligations which the War Department called on us to perform. Let's keep on the ground and still report planes as is outlined in the letter in another column from the War in another column from the War Department."

Duplin Boy Writes That He Was In The Battle Of Munda

Mrs. W. A. Guy recently received a letter from her son, Hallie, who is somewhere in the South Pawho is somewhere in the South Pa-cific fighting the Japs.

Hallie N. Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Guy was inducted into the army, March 15th, 1941, and took his training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He has been over seas since October, 1942, in the Southwest Pacific. He has two brothers in service also, Tyson Guy, stationed at Norfolk and Gurman Guy, stationed at Camp Parks, Calif. Both are in the Navy. The Letter:

August, 19, 1943. Southwest Pacific Dear mother,

Dear mother,

I will drop you a few lines this day to let you hear from me. Well, I am getting along about the same. I am still in good health and I am thankful for that. It is very hot today, the hottest sun I ever felt, I think. Well I hope at this time you and all the family are well; and getting along good. I haven't heard from you in the last few days and I'd be glad to get a few words from home.

days and I'd be glad to get a rew words from home.

Well Mom, they will let us tell now the places I have been, so I was in New Zealand the first time, a very nice place to be. I liked it very much there and enjoyed myself the short while I was there. I was then in New Caledonia, Gaudalcanal, Russell Islands, Rendova and New Georgia. I also served in the battle of Munda.

I have seen times tough and

Conference Met In School Many Issues Discussed Six Counties Represented

Some of the important issues facing education at the present time, with pleas for greater planning and more action, were the subjects of discussion at the Fall Leadership Conference of the North Carolina Education Association held in Kenansville, Wednesday, Oct. 6. The meeting was attended by representatives from the following county units:

Lenoir, Pender, Onslow, Jones, Duplin, and Sampson; from the Kinston and Clinton. Mr. A. B. Wilkins, president of the Southeastern District, presided, and introduced Fred W. Green, executive secretary of the Association and Alice Paulukas, the new field secretary.

Mr. Wilkins pointed out the important part that teachers play in these crucial times, as educators of the boys and girls, and as leaders in the community. Our children should in no way suffer from the lack of education during this emergency.

Army Corps.

This is a grave responsibility with the purpose to replace North Carolina casualties with North Carolina women in uniform, each to wear a North Carolina insignia.

Duplin is asked to recruit at least three women for the WACS.

"It is time," said Mr. Greene,
"That we follow up our discussions with action. We have been most verbal but words are not enough. Action is imperative." There is need to get together and solve these problems.

Some of the outstanding of these problems, as brought out by Miss Paulukas, were those of the nursery schools, adult education etc.

The whole problem in a postwar world is a difficult one to handle.

"It is unreasonable to hope," stated Mr. Greene, "That we can, as soon as the war is won, return as soon as the war is won, return to the conditions that existed prior to Pearl Harbor." The world has become a much smaller place, and we have learned that we cannot disregard what other peoples do. Our children must learn to understand the rest of the world and its problems.

Bring our education up to date, plan it together, and we shall per-petuate the school as one of the most important institutions in a
