3 Negroes Charged With Assault On Rose Hill White Woman

Officers are holding three Negroes as suspects in the assaulting of Mr. Paul D. Fussell in the bedroom of her home about 1:30 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Fussell, who was sleeping with her daughter, Evelyn, 13, was struck on the shoulder and over the left eye with a piece of wood or club, Constable Bertice Fussell said.

Officers said the front door of the home was not locked and it was presumed that entrance was gained there. Nothing was stolen. Blood hounds were brought to the scene and placed on the trail.

The woman's husband, local mail carrier, was sleeping in another room at the time.

Pink Hill Hash-slinger Slings Bullets Too

Marine Mess Sergeant, Jay Car- ter, Pink Hill, N. C., has his own recipe for dishing out hot lead to hungry Japs.

Carter, is credited with shoot- ing down two Jap dive bombers and serving up a batch of corn bread within an hour's time, liter- ally "doubles in brass" by taking charge of a galley and by serving as a gunner on the machine gun only a few steps from his kitchen door.

"I was baking a batch of corn bread when the signal for the raid came," he said. "I quickly shut off the stove and ran to the gun. There were five Jap planes diving down upon us. I just opened up and let them have it."

Afterwards, Carter said, he went back to his corn bread baking.

Refutes Letters Written By Some; Getting Only Weak Soup

Cpl. Stokes Westbrook, German prisoner of war, writes his mother that the American prisoners are going hungry. He refutes state- ments made by some boys who are prisoners, that the Red Cross is taking care of them.

The letter was written to his mother, Mrs. L. G. Westbrook of the B. F. Grady section on July 23rd and received by her Novem- ber 18th. Cpl. Westbrook was captured in North Africa on Feb. 14, 1943.

His letter follows: Dearest mother and family, I sincerely hope you are well. I am still suffering the pain of hunger. The food we get is very little, it is mostly soup with no strength at all.

Some of the boys here have received letters from home saying, the Red Cross is taking care of us. That is not true, we have not received but three boxes from the Red Cross. We are not getting parcels from the Red Cross. I wish you would tell them so, and send me all you can. I have no toilet articles of any kind, and only the clothes I have on, and they are very poor. But I rather you would send food if you can. Anything to eat, it doesn't matter what it is. I hope to hear from you all soon.

Supplies Wanted For Wood Working Shop At Camp Davis

The Camp and Hospital Coun- cil, among the most active and ef- ficient branches of the Red Cross, which devotes its services to the care and comfort of soldiers in camp, has set for itself a new goal.

It wants to provide a wood- working shop for Camp Davis' convalescents. The thought is that recovery will be quicker if patients have something to do with their musc- les as well as their minds. It also could be the means of develop- ing aptitude hitherto unsuspect- ed.

Upon investigation it was found that equipment, such as is needed for a shop of this kind can not be purchased through regular chan- nels. For this reason the Council is putting its problem up to the public.

What is needed? The basic items are: a small circular saw, small lathe, jig saw, sander and drill press and accessories to get these into operation.

If you possess any of the above, or know where it can be bought, please phone or write: Mrs. Caroline Strong, Duplin County Red Cross, Kenansville.

Note: All items mentioned above, may be obtained from several large mail order houses, with proper priorities of course, which no doubt could be procured from the local W.P.B.
