BAD GIRL?

It wasn't so long ago that Mary was playing with dolls. Now she's playing with fire, and is perilously close to the flames.

The war has done this to Mary. Her father's reserve commission was called up and he went back to the army. Her mother, partly for something to fill the empty hours, partly because she wanted to make with her own hands some of the weapons with which her husband would fight, got a job in a war plant.

Mary was too young to get in the WACS or the WAVES or the Nurse's Corps. She was too young to get a job in a factory. The older girls looked down their noses at her when it came to invitations to the parties for service men. "Too much of a kid," they said.

Too much of a kid, eh! She'd show them. So... she is showing them. She's nose-diving toward trouble. She's out on the town, She's flirting with trouble that can wreck her whole life.

There are millions of youngersters like Mary, both boys and girls. They are the war orphans who are sending the JUVENILE DELINQUENCY rate up to heart-breaking heights.

You will help to keep fundamentally nice kids out of trouble when you give to your local United War Fund campaign. That is a sensible development to bring order into the raising of money for necessary war agencies and local agencies as well. It includes USO, China Relief, British War Relief, Russian Relief, and others. It is combined with appeals for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other agencies which help the home front to function properly; to aid the local sick and destitute to keep fundamentally nice kids out of trouble.

The dollars you give to your community's war fund, and through it to the National War Fund will go farther than any other dollars you ever parted with. Their charity will begin at home; it will go to camps here in America; it will travel around the world. Give. Give generously. Add up your total gifts—THEN DOUBLE THAT TOTAL!
