Mrs. H. H. Jones

Funeral services were held Thursday of last week for Mrs. H. H. Jones, 89, who died Wednesday following a brief illness. Burial was in the family cemetery with Rev. R. W. Gurganus in charge.

Mrs. Jones was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church. Surviving are a brother, H. N. Fountain; one sister, Mrs. J. D. Brown of Chingquapin, and the following children: Joan Jones, Nettie Jones, Mrs. B. W. Horne, E. R. Jones and Mrs. Albert Jones, all of Chingquapin, and Mrs. Fred Fountain of Richlands.

Have the schools stopped teaching the three R's? They must have because it's very rare to find a boy who is good at 'ritin'.

The cynic says that the reason some girls are poor mathematicians is that they take their figures for granted.

Making Gifts Aids Buying War Bonds

Not much time for gift making! Choose a cap and bag set which can be made of felt for the teen-ager. This shoulder-strap bag sports a large buckle at the shoulder for adjusting the strap-length and an envelope flap that buttons closed. The close fitting cap is trimmed with felt flower appliques. Christmas gift expenses can be cut in half if you make your gifts, and you'll be wise to put the money you save into extra War Bonds. This pattern is available at your local store.

AUTO DEALERS TO POST INVENTORIES

Automobile rationing regulations have been amended to require all dealers to post lists of their current inventory of 1942 cars for sale or to post notices to the effect if they have none.

The action, it was said, was necessary to see that the remaining meagre supplies of new cars in the nation be used to the greatest possible advancement of the total war effort.

The amendment also extended validity period of car rationing certificates from 15 to 60 days, after which they are not renewable.

When the day arrives that the voters of the United States cast their ballots on the basis of principles and not on the basis of personalities please, somebody, wake us up.
