Miss Carter Hostess To Club

On Tuesday evening Miss Eva Carter delightfully entertained her bridge club at her home on Plank St.

Summer flower adorned the living room where tables were in play. Mrs. Stacy Britt was awarded a box of candy for scoring high and Mrs. L. S. Whittle received an ash tray for second high. Mrs. Britt also captured the bingo prize. Miss Carter was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. A. Carter in serving dainty pineapple and banana candle salad to her guests.

Splendid Meetings Held In Johnson and Warsaw Baptist Churches; Both Well Attended.

Meetings at Johnsons, May 14 to 20th. Rev. J. V. Case of Rose Hill was the visiting preacher. There is fifteen new members; all for baptism except one. A very successful Vacation Bible School was conducted in connection with the meeting with an enrollment of 75 and an average attendance of 55.

The meeting at Warsaw began May 21, and closed May 27. Rev. Donald G. Myers, of Wadesboro, was the preacher.

Twenty-two will be received into the Warsaw Church; fifteen of these are to be baptized, and the others by statement or by letter. Both of these meetings were unusually well attended. The preaching was excellent. And a very fine spirit of interest and helpfulness pervaded each service. The pastor, G. Van Stephens had charge of the services, and led the congregation in song. A baptismal service for the candidates from both churches will be conducted Sunday night, June 3rd, in the Warsaw Baptist Church. Thirty-two are expected to be baptized. The service will begin at 8:30. A warm welcome is extended to all.

Mrs. Ewers Honors Guest At Lovely Party

Mrs. E. P. Ewers was a most delightful hostess Tuesday afternoon when she entertained at her home, honoring her house guest, Mrs. Bill Fussell, of Rose Hill, formerly of Warsaw.

The home was ensuite for the occasion and made lovely with an artistic arrangement of beautiful flowers. Upon arrival, the guests were served an iced drink and after several progressions of bridge a tempting sweet course was served. Each plate held a dainty yellow poppy, further emphasizing the color scheme.

Scoring high was Mrs. J. M. Peirce, who was presented novelty soap, and Mrs. Sterling Marriner received dusting powder for low score. The hostess remembered Mrs. Fussell with a double deck of cards.

THERE'S A Welcome WAITING Thanks to the American Legion

It will be more than just a parade and a band. It will be a welcome that's more than a friendly handshake—a welcome that offers something concrete and tangible.

For the American Legion realizes that the main desire of returning veterans is to get back to home and job—to school and college—to prepare for, or pick up the careers they planned. And the Legion stands ready to help them settle into the life they want, and offers twenty-five years' experience in veteran service to help them.

In taking advantage of the opportunities set forth in the G.I. Bill of Rights, for example, many veterans may find problems, and questions arising—problems and questions they might have difficulty in answering alone. In addition, there are many other government programs in existence, of which servicemen may not be aware. With time limits set on many of them, veterans may miss out on benefits to which they are entitled. To meet these many needs of returning veterans, and to further supplement the veterans' services they inculcated in the original draft of what has since become the G.I. Bill of Rights, the American Legion has set up a nation-wide Program of Service. Under this program, Legion Service Officers are available to all servicemen for advice and assistance on such problems as insurance, hospital care, pensions, pensions for dependents, vocational training, employment, and any other problems which veterans may encounter in connection with their military service.

To carry out the services offered by this organization, there are over seven hundred full time paid post, county, district, department and state service officers throughout the nation. They devote all their time to serving veterans and the dependents of deceased veterans. In addition to this full time group of experts there are over 12,000 volunteer service officers—approximately one for every post of The American Legion. And there are thousands of other volunteer workers within the American Legion, ready and able to help carry out the program.

The Legion urges veterans to take advantage of its experience and facilities, not only for themselves, but for the sake of their families as well.

FOR GOD AND COUNTRY, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the Great wars; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of the will to earth; to promote peace and justice; to posterity the master of the consecrate, freedom and good ship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

This is our preamble, the spirit and every essence of The American Legion.
