Col. Pollock Back In States
Colonel Manley Pollock visited his brother Edgar Pollock here last week. He is now visiting in Lincolnton, N. C., and Georgetown, S. C. He returned to the States last month from Okinawa. While overseas he suffered a back wound and after returning to the States was hospitalized at an Army hospital in New York. He has been in the Army over four years, serving a period in Alaska and the Alutians, where he assisted in constructing the famed Alacon Highway.
