MISS JANE WILLIAMS IS WED TO MR. B. C. SHEFFIELD, JR., IN FORMAL CEREMONY

Miss Jane Williams, daughter of Mrs. John Blaney Williams, Sr., and the late Mr. Williams, of Clinton, became the bride of Bernard Cleveland Sheffield, Jr., son of Mrs. B. C. Sheffield and the late Mr. Sheffield, of Warsaw, on Saturday evening, April 13 in the Clinton Methodist Church with the Rev. Jesse Lanning, pastor of the bride, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with long leaf pine, palms, and southern smilax as a background for the graduated standards entwined with fern holding burning pink cathedral candles. Floor baskets of pink snapdragons and pink carnations tied with large pink bows were used in front of the background of burning candles and greenery in the choir loft and on each side of the altar. In the center of the altar was a prayer bench entwined with fern and showered with tiny pink satin ribbon bows with an arrangement of pink carnations on either side. In the windows of the church burning pink candles in graduated candelabra stood against a background of pine while smilax completed the decoration.

A program of nuptial music was rendered prior to the ceremony by Mrs. D. V. Carter, organist of Clinton. She wore a lovely pale pink choffon dress and a shoulder corsage of a deeper shade of pink roses. Mrs. D. N. Royall, soloist of Salemburg, was attired in a pink marquisette dress with a corsage of pink roses. She sang "Because" by d'Harlot and "All Thru The Years". Mrs. Joe Bamberg, Mrs. Florence R. Johnston and Miss Dorothy Larkins, vocalists of Clinton, sang "At Dawning" by Cadman, and at the end of the ceremony they sang "Amen" as a benediction. They also wore pink dresses with corsages of pink roses. During the ceremony Mrs. Carter softly played "Ava Marie".

The bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Glans of Greenville, Ala., Miss Sara Cox, of Goldsboro, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Hampton Whitfield, of Raleigh, Miss Johnny Teachey, of Rose Hill, and cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. James Furman Honeycutt and Miss Lovie Johnson, of Clinton. They wore identical pale marquisette dresses fashioned with off the shoulder necklines, fitted bodices and full sweeping skirts. Their hats and mitts were of a matching shade of pink net. They carried arm bouquets of a deeper shade of pink roses and carnations tied with pink satin ribbon. The maid of honor, Miss Jane Fisher, of Clinton and the dame of honor, Mrs. Clemm Lucas, of Lucama, sister of the bride, wore dresses, hats and mitts identical to those of the bridesmaids and carried arm bouquets of pink roses tied with pink satin ribbon.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, Albert Williams, wore a beautiful white nylon wedding gown fashioned on colonial lines with a high round neckline and tight fitting bodice. Folds of the material gathered with seed pearls formed an off the shoulder effect. The long sleeves formed a calla lily point at the wrist and the skirt extended into a long train. Her full length veil of imported bridal illusion was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of stephanotis and lilies of the valley centered with two white orchids and showered with ribbon. She wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, her only ornament.

Edwin Sheffield, of Warsaw, brother of the bridegroom was best man and ushers were R. E. Williams and George Williams, brothers of the bride, Jack Darden, Charles Tart, Henry Lee Turlington, all of Clinton, Dr. Charles Johnson of Jacksonville, H. Fennalyson Lee, and Charles Sheffield, brother of the bridegroom, of Warsaw.

Mrs. Williams, mother of the bride, wore a lovely dress of aqua and a corsage of tallman roses. Mrs. Sheffield, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in a lovely dress of light blue with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Sheffield was graduated from East Carolina Teachers College, in Greenville. Since her graduation she has worked with the Sampson County Welfare Department and the American Red Cross.

Mr. Sheffield is a graduate of the School of Pharmacy of the University of North Carolina, where he was a member of Phi Beta Fraternity. He received an honorable discharge in February after forty-four months of service in the Army, a year and a half of which was spent in the European Theatre.

Immediately following the ceremony a formal reception was given at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. E. Williams, Sr., where the entire lower floor was thrown en suite and beautifully decorated throughout. Guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Best introduced guests to the receiving line which was composed of the bride and groom, their mothers, the maid of honor, dame of honor and bridesmaids. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilson were at the end of the receiving line to direct guests from the sun room to the livingroom where they were greeted by Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Parker. Mrs. Jimmie Austin and Mrs. Marshall Williams directed guests to the punch bowl which was presided over by Mrs. Joe Boyette and Mrs. Jock Morrissey. They were assisted in serving by Mesdames R. E. Williams, Hooper Williams, John Kendall and Miss Louise Dameron. Mrs. R. A. McCullen and Mrs. Bob Shields directed guests to the dining room where Mrs. F. L. Turlington and Mrs. F. J. Honeycutt were seated at each end of a beautifully appointed table which was covered with a lace and linen cloth. In the center of the table a four tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom was flanked by burning white tapers tied with white satin ribbon bows. Small arrangements of lilies of the valley in crystal slippers showered with ribbon and fern were used on each corner of the table. On the buffet was an arrangement of white gladioli with lovely candelabra holding white candles on either side. Ice cream, individual bridal cakes, salted nuts and mints in the shape of lilies and roses were served by Mrs. Turlington and Mrs. Honeycutt assisted by the honorary bridesmaids. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fisher directed guests from the dining room to the hall, where Mrs. Otis Register and LeRoy Register directed the guests to the gift room where Mrs. Gordon Lee and Mrs. H. L. Swain received. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rich directed guests from the gift room to the bride's book where Mrs. Clarence Shipp and Mrs. J. B. Faircloth, Jr. presided. Good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Doughtie.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. Mrs. Sheffield wore for traveling an aqua suit trimmed with brown lizard, and a brown three quarter length top coat and matching brown accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids taken from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the couple will reside in Warsaw, where Mr. Sheffield is associated with the Warsaw Drug Co.
