

Bright Outlook For Livestock

North Carolina producers have little cause for worry over the cattle market at this time, according to T. L. Gwyn, cattle marketing specialist with the N. C. Agriculture Department.

He says that very few choice cattle are produced in North Carolina. Livestock feeders in this State generally grow what is known as "short-fed" cattle, feeding from 60 to 120 days, with the product grading medium to low good, seldom higher. Prices for lower grades are holding.

It is reasonable to suppose that prices of these medium to good cattle will continue to receive fair prices, certainly until the seasonally heavy fall movements begin in September, said Gwyn.

Gwyn expects a sharp drop in cattle prices next fall - particularly if there should be a short corn or hay crop this season.

Negro 4-H Club and Farmers Meet

The Duplin County 4-H Council met in the A. M. E. church Friday night at 7 p. m. in Kenansville. The election of officers was held with the following being chosen: Gertrude Farris, Pres.; D. H. Faison, V-Pres.; Beatrice Kenan, Secty.; Maryland Kenan, Asst. Secty.; Mary Bolden, Treas.; and Bayetta Blackmore, Song Leader. After all other business was disposed of, there was an officers training session. The next meeting will be in April, 1934.

On Monday night, Feb. 10, the Agricultural Council met in the auditorium of the Negro High School. The purpose of which was to lay the "ground-work" for the proposed long-time agricultural program for the county. Field Crop Production, Home Gardens, Livestock and Soil Conservation were topics under discussion. The next meeting will be held in March.

Of interest was a set of colored slides made from a demonstration run last year in Control of Blue Mold in Tobacco Plant Beds. The slides were made on the farms of Fred D. Williams, in the Cariton community, and Lee Lennon, in the Stanford community. Workstock clinics will be held at the following times and places: Chinquapin, and at Early Boney's farm at Charity, Monday, Feb. 17. Dr. J. I. Weeks, of Clinton, will be in charge of Veterinary service. The clinics begin at 9:00 a. m.

Uncle Sam Says

You have heard people say, "why save at a time when prices are going up?" We cannot all be economists; and it is perhaps just as well, for they seem to differ a great deal among themselves about the future. But we all know this: A man who saved a dollar 10 years ago is better off today than the man who didn't; and other things being equal, the man who saves a dollar today will be better off in 1937 than the man who doesn't.

United States Savings Bonds offer you the opportunity to save at a profit. Thus every $3 you lay away now will come back to you in 1937 with an extra dollar in interest. You don't have to be an economist to know a good thing when you see it.
