

Beulaville Bugle

By BOB

Only squeaks and squirts seem to come forth as I try to find a true title on this thirty-fourth edition, and copy, and fifth printing of the "Bugle" (silly, ain't it? tis true tis true) But the Bugle isn't meant to be serious, unless something does go right to suit B'ville.

"Let's see what shall we write about this time? Let's try to do a take-off on Robert Quillens style, and add some old gags I used when I was an actor (?) Perhaps I should say when I tried to act on the stage. Now let's see, what thoughts come to my mind? (Mind? Oh you Democritus, you're bragging again.) Hit the Spring-board hard, here we go. He: "Why does a chicken cross the road?"

Bhe: "To get on the other side."

He: "Why does a chicken cross the road?"

Bhe: "Cause the roosters on the other side." Double ha ha ha.

In this day of autos, buses and private planes, just how long has it been since you rode on a train? About ten years or more for me.

Sambo: "Yassuh, my shoe soles so thin I can stand on a dime and tell yo ef its heads or tails."

Come on here Midnight.

Hambo: "Who yo callin' Midnight? You don't look so day-breakish yosed."

Strictly corn folks, right off the cob, right from the shoulder, straight from the heart of Beulaville.

Landlord: "Did you drink the pint of whiskey I gave you yesterday?"

Colored Tenant: "Yassuh, and it was jus' right."

Landlord: "What do you mean, just right?"

Col. Ten.: "Well sub, if it had been any wuss, I couldn't have drunk it, and if it had been any better you wouldn't a give it to me."

There will be a city election for Beulaville in the near future, that's swell, an excellent idea. Now who is running for what, how and why? To this end there will soon be a town meeting held in the Model Theatre (I do, I do, I do). Then the candidates will have an opportunity to declare themselves in the race, and state what they stand for, etc. etc.

J. D. Sandlin was walking down the street one day when he got son struck -- His sons struck him for a new Dry Cleaning Plant. (Note: It's doing very nicely too).

Beulaville marches on!!!

Leon Lanier got all dressed up to go to the Basketball games last Friday, but finally had to come to the show instead, he had mislaid a day and it was only Thursday.

March came in like a lion, hope she goes out like a lamb; if not I'll be looking for April, May and Jun. Guess I'll hang the clothes on the line and make this the final note, it's B-flat.

Fitzgerald has many friends here where he formerly served as pastor of the Baptist Church. He is the brother of Mrs. S. P. Bostic.

Mr. L. F. (Pete) Brown is expected home this week from Fort Bragg hospital where he has been receiving treatment.

Milton Cottle is confined to his home by illness.

Gordon Kennedy is at the Veterans Hospital, Fayetteville, for examination and treatment.

Attend FHA Tri-County Rally Warsaw Saturday

Mrs. P. E. Thigpen, Jr., teacher of Home Ec in Beulaville High School, and leader of the local organization of Future Homemakers of America, accompanied the following members to Warsaw Saturday where they attended the Tri-County (Duplin-Sampson-Pender) Rally of FHA held in the auditorium of the Warsaw High School:

Pansy Edwards, Ruth Sanderson, Celesta Thigpen, Mary Jane Gresham, Vera Gray Wilson, Naomi Mercer, Carolyn Baker, Mary Ida Sandlin, Betty Ann Thomas and Mattie Frances Kennedy. Several of this number took part in the program which was presented during the day. A picnic lunch was served at noon.

Miss Jackson Is Hostess; Faculty

Miss Lou Jackson was hostess Thursday evening when she entertained members of the Potters Hill School Faculty at a lovely 8 o'clock dinner.

The table, covered with a white linen cloth, had as its centerpiece an arrangement of fern and ivy with unshaded white tapers. Shamrock place cards seated the guests, and the delicious dinner further carried out the St. Patrick motif.

Places were laid for Mrs. Sidney Hunter, Mrs. Clyde Brinson, Miss Daisy Burnham, Miss Ethelene Parker, Mrs. Lou Belle Williams, Mrs. J. D. Jackson, mother of the hostess, and Miss Jackson.

Prayer Meetings

Continuing the cottage prayer meetings, preparatory to the prospective revival at the Baptist Church, services were held Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hunter with T. Y. Dobson and M. M. Thigpen leading, and at the home of Mrs. Lula Parker where "Bud" Miller was in charge.

Rev. A. L. Brothers of Rockingham will be the preacher during the series of services, beginning March 16. Music will be in charge of Rev. A. L. Brown and there will be special selections by the Young Peoples Choir, the Junior Choir and others. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend these services.

P T A Meeting Held Monday Eve.

The regular monthly meeting, with the president, Mrs. Lou Belle Williams, presiding, was held on Monday evening at the Presbyterian church. Mr. W. R. Teachey led the opening devotional, and the speaker for the occasion was Rev. A. L. Brown, who used as his topic "Health and Religion."

The out-going Inspection Committee represented by Miss Ernie Sanderson, reported 4 visits to the school during February at which times the committee was very favorably impressed with existing conditions. The following were named on the March Inspection Committee: Mrs. Ashe Miller, Mrs. Leonard Kennedy and Mrs. Otis Miller.

The treasurer reported a balance of $2689.89 in the treasury on Mar. 1st.

After adjournment a social hour was enjoyed and the hospitality committee assisted by Mesdames Carolyn Johnson and Daisy Miller served ice cream.

Mrs. Brinson Is Hostess To Maple H. D. Club

Mrs. Kit Brinson was hostess on Monday when she entertained the Maple Home Demonstration Club. Miss Hilda Clontz, county demonstration agent, met with the ladies and presented a program on "How We Rate As Parents?" There were 13 members and one visitor present. The hostess served a tempting salad course with coffee.

Barbecue Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Sumner and Mr. and Mrs. Ledford Sumner entertained at a delicious barbecue dinner Sunday.

Guests included members of the family from Beulaville, Seven Springs, and High Point. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kennedy and children were additional guests.

Entertains At Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Demorest were hosts at bridge Thursday evening. Coca colas and sandwiches were served during play, and in addition to the hosts playing, were Mrs. Marion Hayworth of Pink Hill, Mrs. Irene Currie and Robert Craft, Jr.

Kinch Parker, Jr. Passes Away

Sunday night, Mar. 2, 1947 Very near the hour of seven A speeding car killed mp pup No one was there to interrupt -

They asked me why I was sad today, I replied: "Jr. has gone away." Kinch Parker is his sire, you see, So named for his Dad he had to be.

Some Spitz, Bull (with a spot on his knee) But mostly Feist (fice) was his pedigree. He was almost white with a curled tail, He could loudly bark with a will.

Three years and six months was his age. He jumped and ran in such a rage. Now Kinch is not very nimble For he was ten last November.

Why do I love them so?

Because they love me, you know. My friends love someone more than me. But I was first with them, you could see.

Each time my steps did homeward wind Barks of welcome I would find. One dog will greet me no more. That's why my heart is heavy and sore.

I'm thankful for the joy he brought. And a lesson to me he taught: If to an animal you are kind He'll bring you joy, you'll find.

So although I had to cry When I knew it was goodbye, A precious memory I can't forget: Such a grand and happy little pet!

Lula Q. Parker.
