Mayor Martin was a member of the Road Commission and, through his efforts, the route was finally secured through the town as it runs at present. The argument proved to be a heated fight but Mayor Martin took the matter to the Supreme Court and won out.

"He fought bitterly for electric lights and today the town is receiving power from the Tidewater Power Company."

There was a need for a City Hall and he secured that, also a two-cell jail. The railroad left on the siding a carload of gravel emptied on the side of the road. Mayor Martin was given this material and, with native sand and a good mixing machine, he gave the town of Faison paved sidewalks without taxation. He was a man of foresight, energy, initiative and judgment along with his abiding interest in his home town. He was greatly instrumental in getting waterworks installed along with other interested men and women.

Perhaps his greatest achievement was, with the cooperation of Mr. McColman (who ran the Bank of Faison for 27 years), in organizing and managing the Faison Produce Auction Market, which was the first market of its kind in North Carolina. This market was started in 1929. Formerly all produce was sold in the streets without any auctioneering at all. During the first year of the Auction Market Faison shipped 40 cars of cucumbers. Today we claim the biggest cucumber market in the United States.

Mr. Martin was a friend to his fellowmen. The colored people said, "We go to him with our troubles and he never fails to give us good advice." He was a generous neighbor, always ready to lend a helping hand and share his blessings with his fellowmen. Those of us who know the past, we gladly call him a benefactor to the Town of Faison.

Questions And Answers To-Vets

Q. I have a blue discharge from the Army. Am I entitled to benefits under the GI Bill?

A. If it is found that your discharge was issued under conditions other than dishonorable, you will be eligible under the GI Bill.

Q. I am an American Indian and a World War II veteran. Am I eligible for a GI loan?

A. Yes, but it must be on property you own or plan to own outside the reservation. You cannot secure a GI loan to build a home on tribal land.

Q. Will the VA accept collect telephone calls made by physicians who wish to ascertain whether they will be paid for emergency treatments given veterans?

A. Yes.
Q. I am a World War I veteran and I was married in June, 1945. Is my wife entitled to receive a pension when I die?

A. A widow of a World War I veteran is entitled to receive a pension if she was married to the veteran before Dec. 14, 1944, or for 10 years or more. Consequently, your wife would not be eligible for pension if you died less than 10 years after your marriage.
