Flora Macdonald Gets $10,000 Gift

The most recent gift to Flora Macdonald College was a contribution of $10,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, received this week.

This grant will be applied to equipment for the science department and improvements in the library.

This gift brings the total contributions to $218,023.75. The original goal was set at $300,000, and all signs point to success - the campaign office remains in operation, and contributions averaging nearly $1,000 weekly are being received. The increasing interest, from various sources, in the expansion of the college, is both encouraging and gratifying.
