Mother-Daughter Banquet Is Held At The Warsaw High School

By EULA LEE BRITT
The second year Home Economics Class of Warsaw High School has recently completed an entertainment unit, and the girls put into practice some of the things they learned by holding a banquet in the Home Economics Department for their mothers on last Tuesday night.

The class made thin banquet booklets, place cards, nut cups, and fruit baskets for the occasion. The department was lovely with tall baskets of spirea and other cut flowers offset by huge red bowls of red carnations and bows of ribbon, with fern and white narcissus on the tables, which were arranged in "U" shape, and the soft glow of lighted candles throughout the room lent a festive air.

Mrs. M. A. Smith presented Mrs. Kathleen Snyder, Home Ec. teacher, a most lovely red carnation corsage.

The meal consisted of tomato juice cocktail for the first course; creamed chicken on chicken dressing, green lima beans, candied yams, hot home made rolls and butter with iced tea for the main course and a salad made of fresh grated coconut, grated carrots and crushed pineapple was served on lettuce in a decorated grapefruit basket topped with a perky green ribbon bow on the handles; the dessert was mock plum pudding with whipped cream.

When they first came in the mothers looked at the work recently done by their daughters, which was on display on the bulletin boards. The program for the evening was begun with a song by all, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." A very lovely invocation was given by Mrs. Ellis West. Barbara Thompson, as mistress of ceremonies gave the welcome, response to this was given most graciously by Mrs. M. A. Smith with an original poem, which everyone thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. J. C. Thompson brought greetings for the evening in a most inspiring message to the Home Ec girls and their teacher. A humorous reading, "Angeline at the Seelback," given by Martha Anne Smith, was enjoyed by all and the program was concluded with singing, "Good Night Ladies."

RECENT BRIDE — Mrs. James Norman Wolfe, who before her marriage on April 16th, in Calypso, was Miss Mary Elizabeth Albritton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Albritton of Calypso. Mr. Wolfe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Wolfe, of Mount Olive.

Mrs. Blackmore Is Hostess To Club

Mrs. Robert Blackmore was hostess to her bridge club Thursday afternoon at her home in the Berry Apartments, which was attractively decorated with mixed spring flowers. Two tables were in play with Mrs. L. S. Whittle winning hi-jacks for club high, Mrs. Wilbur Garner a dish towel for visitors high and Mrs. George Penney, also awarded a dish towel for slam prize.

The hostess served a dainty peach salad course with tea.

Miss Miller Hostess To Unique Club

Miss Margaret Miller was hostess to the "Unique Club" and several additional guests Friday evening at her home.

Three tables of bridge and rummy were in play among a setting of pretty arrangements of mixed spring flowers.

High score for club members dusting powder, went to Miss Nellie Corbett and visitor's high, also dusting powder, to Miss Hazel Carter. In rummy, Miss Mae Brock received novelty soap for high score. Miss Miller remembered Miss Jewel Porter, bride-elect, with crystal in her pattern and each guest presented her with a handkerchief.

The hostess served coca colas and nuts during the games and concluded with angel hash-with cookies.

During the business session Mrs. Ezzell, Sr., reported on community missions and it was voted to remember Mrs. Mose Dunn, who is ill.

The hostess served cookies and fruit punch during the enjoyable social hour.

Bride-Elect Is Honoree At Party

Miss Jewel Porter was complimented Monday evening when Mrs. J. F. Strickland entertained in her honor at a party at her home on Hill St. Bridal flowers were in the living room, where three tables of bridge and rummy were in play with bridge high score award going to Miss Meljones Cooper and rummy high to Miss Mae Brock. A lovely kitchen shower was presented the honoree by the guests and a Presto Cooker was presented by Mrs. Strickland.

The hostess served a dainty sweet course of ice cream, individual bridal cakes, nuts and green fruit punch to her guests.

Mrs. West Hostess To Bridge Club

Mrs. R. L. West delightfully entertained her bridge club, and the members husbands Monday at a bridge dinner party, at which time Mr. and Mrs. H. Daulton West, recently married, were special honor guests.

Throughout the home were lovely and artistic arrangements of yellow and white flowers, with spirea predominating. The mantel in the living room was draped with clematis in a crystal bowl and in the dining room the table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a bowl of pink azaleas, surrounded by a garland of clematis.

Seven tables were placed for bridge and set back. Mrs. E. F. Strickland, ladies high scorer received a hammered aluminum bon bon dish and Sterling W. Marriner, men's high scorer, was awarded novelty matches. In set back, E. F. Strickland received a novelty bird dog set for scoring high. The hostess presented Mr. and Mrs. West an honor gift, a blue waste paper basket in Godey print.

Upon arrival the guests were served a tempting chicken salad course with coffee, followed by individual lemon pies and at the conclusion of games iced coca colas were served.
