G. I. Questions And Answers

Q. Does the VA set the date of maturity on my G. I. loan?
A. No, but the term shall in no event exceed 10 years for non-real estate loans; 25 years for home and business loans on real estate; 40 years for farm loans on real estate farming operations.
Q. If I am forced to leave my husband, a pensioned World War I veteran, for cruelty or other reason, will I receive half of his pension?
A. Under these circumstances you may be entitled to an apportioned share of the veteran's pension under existing regulations: "wife but no child, 70 per cent for veteran and 30 per cent for wife."
Q. Why is it necessary to appraise a piece of property I wish to buy with a G. I. loan?
A. The law requires that the purchase price paid or to be paid for property, or the cost of construction alterations and improvements, must not be more than the reasonable value thereof.
Q. Will I have to pay for books or equipment while attending a school under the G. I. Bill?
A. VA pays for all books and equipment that is required as long as this amount plus tuition does not exceed $500 a year for the course.

Medicated Feeds

Raleigh, July 28. — A motion that the State Department of Agriculture continue its policy of banning the sale of medicated poultry feeds in North Carolina was adopted unanimously at a public hearing recently attended by feed manufacturers, poultrymen, hatchery operators and specialists.
North Carolina is the only State prohibiting the sale of medicated feeds. The hearing was called after some agitation for the removal of the ban had come from out-of-state feed manufacturers.
With most of those present expressing their views, the consensus was that marketing of medicated feeds in this State would make feed costs prohibitive, put poultry flocks in danger from amateur diagnosis and result in less attention to sanitation and sound management.
