A Peach At A Half Pound

Lawrence W. Jarmin, native of Seven Springs, now head of the Physics Department of Thomas Jefferson School in Richmond, Va., is spending this week at his paternal home in Seven Springs. He has been gathering and selling peaches from his pet project, "Poor Hope" farm near Hussey's Store. Lawrence plucked one large peach and it weighed exactly one-half pound.

After laboring in the class room in Richmond through the regular winter session, and then through a summer term, he came to Seven Springs and picked and sold peaches off "Poor Hope" for $3.00 per bushel. Of course his brother, Ruel nursed the orchard along for him and brought about a good harvest. Lawrence seems to be enjoying his week of farming.
