

Steps in the Training of a Good Hunting Companion

There's nothing like a good dog to add pleasure and profit to the hunt. But good dog companions don't just happen; practically without exception they are the products of long, conscientious training in the demands of the woods and fields. Some of the steps in the training of a good gun dog are here illustrated by Elias C. Fall, widely-known trainer of field dogs and director of the Gaines Research Kennels, Ridgefield, Conn.

"NO!" is one of the most valuable commands in preventing waste motion in hunting. A dog who will refrain from eating when commanded "No!" is well on the way toward being well trained.

"WHOA!" Picking the dog up and then planting him down firmly on all four feet while restraining him from moving is the best way to teach him to stop in his tracks on this command.

THE YOUNG DOG learns the correct form for a point by example from association with an older and well-trained dog. Constant correction leads to ultimate perfection of stance.

"HEEL!" This command keeps the dog at his master's side ready for any contingency. Pointers and Setters "heel" on the right side while Retrievers walk on their master's left side.

FIELD TRIAL DOGS are run in braces. Exuberant dogs have to be held back until they learn to stand without a lead while waiting for the starting signal.

HOLDING a point until a gun is fired is taught by having one man flush the bird while another holds the dog. After the gun is fired the dog is allowed to run to the end of a long lead, and thus comes to associate the two.

CAN YOU SAVE $2,000 IN 3 YEARS IN YOUR PRESENT JOB?

Here's a job opportunity that can start you on the road to financial independence. Want to own a farm - or a business for yourself some day? Then here's how you start - enlist in the new Regular Army or Air Force. Highest pay you'll receive in history - plus free food, clothing, housing, and medical care. Thousands of high school graduates are volunteering daily because no other profession offers so much. Learn, earn, and save while you serve. If you are a qualified veteran, you may spend your first year in your own Army Area, or if travel appeals to you, you may serve in the European Theater at twenty per cent extra pay.

If you're seeking travel, adventure, education in specialized branches, the Regular Army and Air Force offer all these, along with depression-proof pay checks to guarantee you real stability and the chance to save up to nearly $2,000 in cash in 3 years.

Rising prices need not affect you. You can prepare for a secure career by qualifying for the job you select in the U. S. Army or Air Force. Get full details, without any obligation, at your nearest U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, at Goldsboro today.
