ing of the Council of the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship of the Wilmington Presbytery, held at Lake Waccamaw, George Powell, member of the Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church, was appointed chairman of the Warsaw district to fill the unexpired term of Billy Farrior of Warsaw. Dan Fagg, Jr., of Mt. Olive previously had been elected treasurer of the group.

Powell is a senior in the Mount Olive high school and plans to attend Davidson College after graduation to study missionary work.

The duties of Mr. Powell are to keep in contact with District Fellowships and encourage their work.

County Tour:
The Home Demonstration Clubs of Duplin County witnessed a one day tour from Kenansville to Raleigh, Saturday, Aug. 30 with 30 members present. Many places of interest were visited including the State Museum, Hall of History, Chavis Park, Art Gallery and the Capitol building. The home Agent and Club President, Mrs. Annie Roberts led the group to each place of interest and secured persons to show us around. The tour was sponsored by the Stanford Home Demonstration Club with Mrs. Sudie Stackhouse supervising.

Second Annual County-wide Picnic
One hundred three adults, older youths and 4-Hers attended their second annual county-wide picnic at Atlantic Beach, S. C. Aug. 23.

For transportation three Queen City busses were chartered which began loading at 7:30 A. M. Places of loading were Kenansville, Warsaw, Magnolia, Rose Hill and Wallace, leaving Wallace at 9:15 and arrived at the beach at 12:30. Upon arrival a short program was given consisting of songs, reading of papers, poems remarks by County Agent, announcements by the Home Agent, and recreation.

The busses began loading at 4:30 and were back at the County seat by 7:45. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed the trip very much.

Farm and Homemakers Confer:
During the week of Aug. 13-15, there were three Home Demonstration members to attend the Farm and Homemaker's Conference held at A and T College in Greensboro. They were Mrs. Neppie Dobson, Mrs. Sarah Taylor, and Mrs. N. B. Wells. The conference began on Wednesday at 10 a. m. with registration and adjourned at 1:00 p. m. Friday. The delegates were in class discussions on Nutrition and Health, Home Management and Renovation, Home Laundering, Home Gardening, Dairying, Farm and Home Beautification and Improvement, and Community Planning and Cooperation.

Special County Project:
Mrs. Pammie Graham of Rt. 1, Magnolia, Home Demonstration member in the Stanford community has one of the project homes carried on in Duplin for the year 1947. Mrs. Graham has remodeled and painted three rooms. They are two bed rooms and a kitchen. She has also made improvements in other rooms. She is now beautifying her yard. A fish pool has already been constructed, unnecessary shrubbery is to be removed and landscaping done. Mrs. Graham has purchased a new kitchen unit with sink and two cabinets painted in blue and white, with the top covered with inlaid linoleum. In remodeling it was necessary to change a double window so as to fit the sink in. A small breakfast nook is being built in.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What is usually the source of black honey?
A. Over-ripe fruit, pokeberries, or some other dark fruit may be the source.

Q. How should a newly freshened cow be fed?
A. The feed for the first few days should be very limited in amount. The first day feed should be restricted to bran mash, for the following four days feed a mixture of wheat bran and ground oats, equal parts. A reasonable amount of legume hay and a small amount of silage may be fed at all times during the freshening period. On or about the fifth day the cow may be started on the regular milking ration and gradually brought to full feed over a period of three weeks from freshening date.

AT HOME ON THE FARM WITH THE CITY COUSIN

"Either young men must be encouraged to operate farms, and things made possible for them to do so, or else efforts should be directed toward teaching old dog new tricks."

That was Brooks James talkin', tellin' me kinda indirectly the answer to a question I had just asked the former head of the Extension Service's Farm Management section.

I want to know how old a man has to be to own a farm in North Carolina, and he set me straight on it in a hurry.

"Cousin," he says, "some people would think that was a foolish question to be asking, but about a year ago, less than two per cent of the farmer-operators in this state were under 25.

I told Mr. James it didn't seem right that so few young men were taking a leading role in Tar Heel farming, and he replied:

"That's not all, Cousin — only about 1-8 of the farm-operators were less than 35 years old at the same time."

"Too bad," I says, "too bad!" "Yes it is," he agreed, "because young men are always willing and anxious to adopt new practices and try new methods and set the pace in the race for progress."

Drunken Driving On Increase In N. C.

Raleigh, Sept. 6.—Drunken driving along our State highways has doubled in a year and the State Motor Vehicle Department said in a monthly summary of traffic violations just released that motorists were showing less regard for the law.

The Department said that 1,386 motorists, including 789 charged with drunken driving, lost their licenses permanently or temporarily during August. In August, 1946, drunken driving violations totaled only 300.
