Bride-Elect Is Honored At Party

Miss Hazel Strickland, bride-elect of the fall, was honored Wednesday evening when Miss Janice Draughon complimented her with an informal party at her home on Pine St. Throughout the home, which was ensuite, were lovely and artistic arrangements of pink dahlias. The living room mantle was decorated with burning pink tapers entwined with periwinkle.

The coffee table, which was the center of attraction, was centered with a bride doll, with bridesmaids on either side. Elsewhere in the room were miniature brides.

Two appropriate and impressive readings were given by Miss Mae Brock, who presented "In The Usual Way", and Miss Margaret Peirce presented "What The Green Wore," especially for Mrs. Avon Sharpe, who before her recent marriage was Miss Hazel Carter.

The hostess presented the honoree with two mahogany bird prints; Mrs. Sharpe, a cranberry vase; and Miss Margaret Miller was remembered with a crystal smooch tray.

Miss Draughon assisted her daughter in serving molded bridal loes in wedding slippers. Miss, the bride and groom, bridal hearts and gifts, ate to 18 guests.
