SKYSTREAKS TO RECORD

The Navy captured the world's speed record in August, 1947, and, five days later, broke it with the jet-propelled "Skystreak," shown above. Piloted by Comdr. Turner E. Caldwell, Jr., USN, the plane flew 646.7 miles per hour in the first test at Muroc Field, Calif. Within a week Maj. Marion Carl, USMC, set a new mark of 650.6 miles per hour in the same plane.

Save A Life By Sharing Food

Eat no more than you need, waste nothing, and share your food with the less fortunate, is the formula Miss S. Virginia Wilson, Extension Nutritionist at State College, offers for helping save a life and improving your own health at the same time.

Do not eat less than you need to keep healthy and work efficiently. Miss Wilson said, just cut out the "extras" so some starving person can have enough to keep him alive.

Everyone is being asked to eat less bread, poultry, eggs and meat, because all four save wheat, which is high in food value, can be shipped long distances without spoiling, and is liked by more people than any other food.

Bread can be saved by taking only the bread you are going to eat, and allowing no bread to go to waste by letting it mold or go stale. If it is difficult to use a loaf of bread before it molds, try to make room for it in the refrigerator. It will keep several days longer there. Another good place is a well-ventilated, washable bread box kept in a cool place. Wherever stored, bread should be well wrapped in moisture proof paper.

One million pounds of bread can be saved daily if every American family will save one slice, Miss Wilson said.

Cakes and pastries use flour too therefore, saving bread and eating more cake won't help the situation. Sweet or white potatoes, rice, corn, grits, dried peas and beans eat take the place of some bread in lunch and dinner menus. Cheese, fish, dried beans and peas can be used in place of meat dishes.

The hardest hit meal on poultry-less and eggless Thursdays will be breakfast, but with careful thought a wholesome meal that meets all the requirements of a good breakfast can be planned without an egg. It might consist of: orange juice, oatmeal or other hot cereal with raisins, buttered toast and a beverage.
