Uncle Sam Says

What will your today's harvest look like 10 years from today? Will it be just a memory 10 years old? Or will your golden crops ripen into a better farm, the best education in the world for your youngsters, or perhaps well-earned leisure for you and mom? Now's the time for you to plant dollars in United States Savings Bonds for future harvests. Four dollars for three dollars at maturity, and the deal backed by the United States Government—where can you beat Series E Bonds for an investment these days? U. S. Treasury Department have pledged ourselves to strive for better driving habits - an accident free record and 100% cooperation with Governor Cherry's plea for "Safe Driving". Will you drive safely?

Advice To Vets Reemployment

Local offices of the N. C. State Employment Service are now organized to give information and advice to veterans concerning their reemployment and seniority rights under the Selective Service Act, it has been announced.

Under the Selective Service Act veterans are entitled to reemployment rights including seniority and other benefits which would have accrued to them if they had remained on the job. When the Selective Service Act expired last March, responsibility for assistance to veterans in connection with those rights were transferred to the U. S. Department of Labor.

Veterans who have reemployment problems involving restoration in their old jobs or seniority and accrued benefits on the job, and who have been laid off or discharged without cause before completing one year of employment to which they are entitled by law, should discuss their problems with personnel of their local Employment Service Office.

Rose Hill Girl Joins W A A

The Woman's Athletic Association of East Carolina Teachers College, an organization sponsoring program of sports open to women students, welcomed 23 students as members at a meeting held on the campus last week. Among those in Miss Patricia Wilson of Rose Hill, a sophomore at the college.

Plans include events in which women students will participate in tennis, bowling, basketball, volley ball, soccer, field hockey, archery, hiking, and bicycling.

A HUNTING WE WILL GO—PERHAPS!... Tommy Charles of Peckskill, N. Y., had in mind to take his hunting dog and trusty gun and fill the family larder with wild game. But Giggie would have none of that foolishness—she knows that food comes out of a can.

Auto Drivers NOTICE

The Army Recruiting Service in cooperation with the State of North Carolina's Safe Driving Campaign is proud to submit to you the following letter from an anxious father:

Dear Driver:

Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker-spaniel, whose name is "Scout", sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "Goodbye" and started off to the halls of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her - the girl with yellow curls - and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in back of her head, - and about the trees in the school yard - about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things - tremendously vital unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading and then to bed.

She's back there now - back in the nursery - sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's a doll) tucked in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger out, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it - but when she starts to school - when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid, she can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim with me on Sunday afternoon. But I can't be with her all the time - I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive carefully, please drive slowly past schools and intersections - and please remember that children run from behind parked cars.

PLEASE DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL Signed An Anxious Father

After reading such a letter how can anyone drive recklessly - how can anyone jeopardize the lives
