Rule Book for Civilization

Like thousands of other Americans in 1941 I bought a new car. I got an Oldsmobile. I am still using the car and getting good service out of it, and I believe I know why. A book of instructions came with it, and because I believed the people who made the car could tell me a great deal about how to run it, I studied that book carefully. I got excellent service from the automobile throughout the entire war, and am still using it.

I believe that happened because I followed the instructions of those who made the Oldsmobile. Doing that, I could expect to get good service. The whole idea seemed like good logic to me. May I submit an application for this home-made manual? If this principle works with automobiles, it should have some merit when applied to things larger and more important. Will you follow me in this application?

Handbook for Mortals

The Bible is the book of instructions from the Creator who made the world and the fullness thereof. It is the book containing the laws, rules, and advice that we mortals should read and study in order that we may know how to proceed. It is the instruction book on how to operate that part of the Creator's handiwork with which we are involved. Careful study of this instruction book will bring great dividends. I am glad to live in a land where a National Bible Week finds enthusiastic support. This year October 20 to 26 has been so designated. Did you know that twelve of the thirteen little colonies planted along the Atlantic seaboard were founded by people who came to America seeking religious freedom? Their lives were guided and dominated by the Bible. But perhaps even they did not visualize the kind of America to come—the America to come because of what they did.

Bill of Freedoms

Later, when our Constitution was framed, the men who wrote it were men who believed the Bible and who looked upon it as God's "instruction book." These men desired to maintain for their descendants, and for posterity, the kind of individual freedom which they believed the Creator had decreed for every individual. To them, that was one of the instruction rules out of the book.

That Constitution, when adopted and amended in 1789, carried with it the greatest bill of individual freedoms that any nation has ever enjoyed. Under these freedoms, America developed the greatest measure of well-being and prosperity that any segment of mankind has ever developed on this earth. It may be said, without any doubt, that the freedoms and liberties which brought our prosperity grew directly from the religious foundation laid by our forefathers.

I am glad to feel that we Americans are so dedicated to the basic concepts of law and practice as they are found in the Bible. If we will look to God's instruction book for guidance at all times in the future, making it our source book for living, then our future is secure. Only in that way may America preserve liberty and freedom—and even civilization, through the coming decades and centuries.

Two Ladies of the Dairy Meet . . . The Subject Could Be Hats

DALLAS, TEX. — The mutual greeting was, "Where did you get that hat?" when Springlea Gay Lass, grand champion Ayrshire cow owned by Curtis Candy Company, was introduced to Elsie at the Texas State Fair. Gay Lass' smug look comes from the fact that she had just been named grand champion at the Texas fair. A week previously, she had won the same honor at the Dairy Cattle Congress, Waterloo, Iowa.

Seed Shortage Warning Issued

Farmers were warned by seed dealers and distributors at a meeting held in Raleigh Dec. 12 that wet weather has already cut available lespeveda seed to 50 percent of its normal supply.

K. J. Shaw, of the McNair Seed Company of Laurinburg said that farmers should take precautions against the indicated shortage by allowing their lespeveda to re-seed itself, and by carefully conserving such seed supplies that they have on hand. An acute shortage, he said, would be felt in both Carolinas, with no appreciable supply available from other areas.
