Fourth Grade Presents Play

Miss Frances Mercer's Fourth Grade presented the program at the December PTA meeting. A health play entitled "Peter Pain and the Good Health Kids" was given. The main characters were Peter Pain - Landon Edwards; Peter's mother - Hilda Bell; John Jay - Teet Mercer; Dr. Pill - Edward Heath; Dr. Knife - Nick Bostic; Nurse - Lou Ann Thomas.

Between acts two readings "Hey Ma," and "Mrs. Rastus at the telephone" were given by Teet Mercer.

OES Xmas Party

Members of the Beulaville Order of Eastern Star enjoyed a delightful party Monday evening following the regular meeting. The event climaxed a spirited contest which has been waged among three groups, when the two losing teams were hostesses to the winners. Christmas decorations were used, with emphasis upon a beautifully lighted tree. Gifts were exchanged and a social hour enjoyed. The hostesses served punch, cookies and salted nuts.

Faison Sesames Met Last Week

The Faison Sesame Club met on Wednesday afternoon in the Community Building, Dec. 10. A cheer fire in the open fireplace and boughs of holly and myrtle with clusters of mistletoe greeted the members on their arrival.

After a brief business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. R. A. Williams who had charge of the program, which she built around Christmas most appealing to the mature mind. It was a happy blending of the lighter vein with the serious. First came a Christmas Carols "Bee" - two captains chose "sides", the pianist played well known and not so well known carols, the members taking turns guessing the correct titles. Mrs. J. M. Smith, wife of the Presbyterian minister, gave the correct titles to the greatest number and was presented a prize. Next, Mrs. Williams told the story, "Is It Far To Bethlehem?" This she did in a very appealing manner. The program ended with singing by the entire group. A delicious salad course, suggestive of the holiday season, was served by the hostesses.
