Proud Of Laundry

The Bet-R-Way Laundry recently opened in Warsaw under the supervision of the owner, Rudolph Pittman, popular local young veteran of World War II. And residents are indeed grateful for the good work being done by the new laundry and their staff of helpers during these days and weeks of inclement weather.

Mr. Pittman is being assisted in his new work by Carroll Best, also popular veteran, and Mrs. Bill Boyette. In the laundry proper are Finley Bryant, colored washer, and Julia Vann, Lulamae Vann, Esther Smith and Marie Barends, colored laundresses.

The Bet-R-Way specializes in regular damp wash and finished flat work. Reports are that the work is very satisfactory, but like all enterprises, this business must too have a beginning and will learn better and better by sound experience. It is up to Warsaw housewives to patronize this young business, help it grow, enlarge on the payroll and make Warsaw a bigger and better town. Here's to you, Rudolph, your capable staff and Bet-R-Way Laundry.

Baptists Hosts To Campbell Students

The Warsaw Baptist Church was host to four Campbell College students at the regular morning service Sunday morning. Rev. G. Vann Stephens introduced Rev. Richard Bray, Jr. of Richmond, Va. who introduced three fellow students, in broken and quickly learned English, each with a Spanish accent, bringing a message of testimonials and need from their homeland. These boys, now studying at Campbell College at Buies Creek, represented Chile, Puerto Rico and Cuba.

Red Cross Notes

(Intended for Last Week)

The following letter came from the VA Hospital, Alexandria, La.: Mrs. N. B. Boney, Exec. Secy., Duplin County Chapter American Red Cross Kenansville, N. C. Dear Mrs. Boney: This will acknowledge receipt on

Jan. 26, of your chapter's shipment of ten beacon cloth bathrobes for use by patients at this hospital.

Will you please extend to all members of your Production Corps who worked on this project, the sincere appreciation of the hospital's patients, personnel and Red Cross staff, for their splendid work? The garments were very superior in workmanship and will prove most serviceable in the present severe cold and throughout the winter months. The Chief Nurse will select the patients to receive the robes and we know that they will be very proud of their warm, well-tailored garments and of the fact that Red Cross furnished them. They are indeed a credit to your chapter's production group.

Yours very truly
(Mrs.) Ione B. Hopkins
Field Director
