Why the Marshall Plan For European Recovery?

By ROBERT P. PATTERSON
(Former Secretary of War)

The Committee for the Marshall Plan to Aid European Recovery feels that the success of the European recovery program will mean the difference between peace in a world of free nations and war in a world dominated by dictatorships.

We believe that the European Recovery Program is the front line of American security. In the past quarter of a century we have learned that vital as is the role of our military establishments, our security and freedom depend in the first instance upon the actions of other nations and other peoples. The course which the people of Western Europe must take in the next four years is the most important decision affecting our national safety which is still open in the world today.

At the end of the war everyone believed that enduring peace and economic recovery from the war was most assured by political settlement and economic problems which were firmly founded on agreement between the great powers. The United Nations, would, it was planned, go forward from this start on the basis of principle and organization which would bring to the settlement of international questions the conscience of mankind and the justice of laws and procedures which dealt equally with the strong and the weak.

Since that period of high hopes and particularly in the past year, there has been a worsening of conditions, politically and economically, in western Europe. Today we face a crisis and a choice—whether to let conditions there degenerate into chaos or to take bold steps to help restore the balance in favor of democracy. We propose to do this in cooperation with Europe and within the spirit of the United Nations.

We now have a plan, the European Recovery Program, to enable sixteen nations of Western Europe again to become self-supporting. The basis of this program is not relief but full long-range recovery.

This program recommends that for fifteen months, April 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949, the United States government provide $6.8 billion for recovery among the sixteen nations participating in the plan. Additionally it recommends that we authorize the European Recovery Program for the full four years required to achieve economic stability.

America has learned through the painful lessons of two world wars that it cannot isolate itself from economic and social disruption in other parts of the world. We share in its prosperity or ruin. Our peak level of production is only possible because we have access to goods from every other country. In turn, continued American prosperity depends upon our ability to sell our industrial and agricultural goods outside as well as inside the United States.

President Truman has asked that this Program be approved by April 1. Every week the European Recovery Program is delayed means a further cut in Europe's dwindling gold and dollar reserves. Every week of delay makes eventual recovery more costly and difficult to achieve.

What will Congress do? That rests with the American people. Weigh the evidence, make up your mind, then write to your Senators and Congressmen. It is up to you, Citizens of the U.S.A.

Entertains At Party

Mrs. Charlie Sheffield and Mrs. Edwin Sheffield were joint hostesses Thursday afternoon when they entertained their bridge club and additional guests honoring Mrs. Charlie Sheffield's houseguest, Mrs. Harry Ransome, of Washington, D. C.

The home, ensuite for the occasion, was attractively decorated with magnolia, flowering quince and that earth had to offer beckoned to Charles, who went home with the Great Eternal and now rests near the heart of God.

Charles' stay with us was short, but the Lord knows best. His battle for life was truly heroic, the sparkle in his little eyes never went out until the night he died. He had a great desire to live but God had something better for Charles. He had a home whose builder and maker is God. In that home Charles will never again lie in his hospital bed and watch those he loved most and being unable to express himself even in the language of a cry.

Near Charles' home dwells Jesus, the great Physician, who will not inflict pain as he heals, but will take Charles by the hand and lead him to the tree of life, the leaves of which are for the healing of the nations. There Charles will await the coming of those he left behind. But should their time of coming be long or should his heart grow lonely waiting, the great Physician will whisper to him when they come there shall be no more death, nor sorrow, neither shall there be any more pain and God Himself shall wipe away the tears from his eyes.
