You've often heard the age-old expression, "As the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." No more truthful sentence was ever uttered. The thoughts and deeds of every man and woman will invariably reflect in some way the training he or she received in youth. That is why parents, now as always, have such a grave responsibility in their children's tender and adolescent years.

It is a proven fact that an individual's character and outlook on life as a whole is formed during these years. No well thinking parents will intentionally let their children be led astray by the many evil forces at work in the world today. However, unintentional negligence can in many cases do the job as quickly and as thoroughly. We urge you, the parents of these youngsters whose future is at stake, not to neglect their spiritual lives. Attend Sunday School and Church this Sunday and every Sunday and take them along with you.
