Dixie Kornegay Wed To Mr. Carlton

Miss Dixie Elizabeth Kornegay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Kornegay of Bowden, became the bride of William Bruce Carlton, son of Mrs. Bruce Carlton and the late Mr. Carlton of Warsaw, in a candlelight ceremony at 7 o'clock on Friday evening, May 21, in the Faison Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. J. Murphy Smith was the officiating minister, and the wedding music was presented by the bridesmaid's sister, Miss Mary Carlton of Durham and Warsaw, and James Oreglia of Warsaw, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Loftin Kornegay, wore a gown of white faille fashioned with a square marquisette yoke edged with rose point lace, fitted bodice buttoned down the back with self-covered buttons, long sleeves ending in points at the wrists and a full skirt which formed a long train. Her veil of illusion fell from a small tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, centered with a white orchid, edged with white tulle and showered with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Charles J. Sheffield of Warsaw, matron of honor, wore a dress of heavenly blue taffeta with full bouffant skirt gathered onto a fitted bodice. Her headpiece was of yellow net and she wore matching mitts. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers in pastel shades tied with yellow taffeta ribbon.

Marilyn Price, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a dress of yellow organdy and carried a small colonial nosegay, and wore a matching halo of flowers in her hair.

Walter Price, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. R. Scott Kornegay of Salina, Kansas, brother of the bride, and Felton Tilley of Raleigh were ushers.

Mrs. Kornegay, mother of the bride, wore a grey crepe dress and a purple orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of blue crepe and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the wedding the couple left for unannounced points.

Mrs. Joe Best of Clinton and Mrs. C. D. Gregory of Belcross.

Study Course And Banquet

The GA's and RA's of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union enjoyed an interesting study course Friday evening taught by Mrs. Glimmer Beck in the Legion Home.

The lounge was decorated with summer flowers, using the colors of each organization. About 40 boys and girls found their places by means of attractive place cards. After the study course they enjoyed a supper of chicken salad with accessories and tea. Following supper games were enjoyed. Those assisting in serving were Mesdames Wilbur Garner, L. S. Whittle, and J. F. Strickland, GA leaders, and Mesdames Thel Snipes and Stacy Britt, RA leaders.
