Lacy Weeks Says
Check Ladders
For Safety

"You may be heading for a fall unless you check your climbing equipment and practices used in and around the home." That was Lacy Weeks, Duplin County Agent, said today in stressing the importance of avoiding falls by keeping ladders and step stools in good repair and climbing them properly. "Inspect ladders frequently for rusted or loose bolts and nails, cracked or loose rungs or supports; make repairs immediately or get a new ladder. That's cheaper than having an accident," he said. He warns against standing on chairs, stools, boxes, tables or other makeshift devices not intended for that purpose. Severe injury and death have often resulted from falls at low levels.

Weeks Advises
On Fence Posts

Since the old lightwood fence posts have about played out in this section of the country, farmers are facing a problem building and maintaining fences. The posts now in use will generally last 2 or 3 years. This requires a great deal of labor replacing rotten posts.

There are a few simple treatments that can be applied to make posts last many times as long as they do without treatment. Leaflets are now available which furnishes information on the various fence post treatments. See your county agent.

Tempted to unload their timber stock while prices are high, many farmers are not only ruining their future timber crop but are also losing money by rushing to sell at the first opportunity.

Chinquapin, N. C.

July 29, 1948

Dear Friend:

It is with great joy that I write this letter. The heat wave has broken and the busy season is just about over. I am writing to urgently request that you come to Island Creek Church for our next Sunday morning's service. During the summer months the attendance has fallen off some and we are most anxious to have everyone attend this service if possible.

I am planning to mention some things that I believe we should be thinking about with respect to the future program of our work. Already we have accomplished much but much more remains to be done. All of us I am sure are proud of the fine B. T. U. organization and its activities, the church choir, the addition of the Sunday School rooms to the church. These are splendid achievements.

Naturally all of us are concerned about the Polio epidemic. I would suggest that we use every precaution for the safe guard of our children. I think the children should be kept home since the epidemic is so bad. The older people can attend service however, and I shall be so glad if you will come and invite all others whom you may see to be with us.

I have recently moved to the Baptist Parsonage at Chinquapin and my family will be so glad if you will arrange to pay us a visit. Should you wish to get in touch with me, you can find me there.

With kind regards to you and yours, I am yours in His Name.

N. E. Gresham, Pastor.

A Good Smaller Market

Hot dry weather hasn't hurt tobacco as much in the section around Goldsboro as on farms near some of the bigger tobacco market towns.

That should mean better average quality and better prices on the Goldsboro market this year. Goldsboro warehousemen are lined up to provide the best service, unloading help and everything else, in their history.

As always, the Goldsboro News-Argus will report truthfully the prices paid.
