Brides-Elect Honored

Mesdames P. J. Dobson, C. B. Sitterson and J. E. Jerritt were joint hostesses with Miss Lula Hinson at a lovely bridge party last Saturday night in the club rooms. The delightful affair was to announce the approaching marriage of Mrs. Doris Dobson Fulgo, who shared honors with Miss Anne Dail, bride elect of August. Pines banked the walls and ivy entwined the posts. The rooms were decorated in green and white. Lovely arrangements of white gladioli and fern were placed on auxiliary tables. As guests arrived they were presented miniature green and white corsages and found their places at the seven tables by drawing tallies which were passed by Miss Janet Boney. The two honorees were given lovely corsages and so were Mrs. G. R. Dail, mother of Miss Dail. Mrs. N. B. Boney and Mrs. J. L. Williams assisted the hostesses in serving a sweet course of ice cream and bridal cakes, nuts and mints, soon after the guests arrived. An attractive card attached to the individual nut cups announced the approaching marriage of Mrs. Doris Dobson Fulgo to Mr. Charles Odum on September 7, 1948. During the games the hostesses served fruit punch. High score prize was awarded Mrs. J. B. Wallace and second high to Mrs. Fulgo. Miss Dail was showered with a number of useful gifts from all present.

Still Operators Make Escape

An all-night vigil beside a whiskey still in Cypress Creek Township proved of little value to Duplin sheriff's deputies last week. The three operators who showed up shortly before dawn jumped a ditch and escaped. Deputy Sheriff Perry Smith said the party had found the 125 gallon vat-type still with about 1,000 gallons of mash ready for distilling. It was destroyed.

Others on the raid were J. F. Futrelle, C. W. Wagstaff and A. R. Marley.
