Duplin T. B. Assoc. To Meet

The Board of Directors of the Duplin County Tuberculosis Association will meet at the Health Department in Kenansville Friday night, October 15th at 7:30.

A speaker from the N. C. T. B. Association will be present.

The work of the association, its financial needs, and plans for the 1948 Seal Sale will be discussed.

All Officers are urged to attend, and other interested persons are cordially invited.

Duplin ACA Notes

Committeemen Elections:

The annual election of committeemen to administer the 1949 PMA Programs in the counties and communities will be held between Dec. 1st and Dec. 15th, states Joe E. Sloan, Chairman Duplin County A. C. A. committee. This will enable the committeemen now serving to complete most work on the 1948 Program and permit the newly elected committeemen to make adjustments on the 1949 tobacco allotments and proceed with other 1949. The selection of competent committeemen who will take an active part in the efficient administration of the program is highly important and every effort should be made to select the committeemen best fitted for the office.

Announcement has been made that there will be no cotton marketing quotas for 1949 crop because total supply does not exceed normal supply by more than 7%. Total supply is 19,164,000 running bales. Normal supply is 18,200,000 running bales. To make quotas mandatory total supply would have to be 19,474,000 running bales.

Duplin County farmers should place their orders at ACA office for Austrian winter peas and ryegrass immediately. A truck from the Warsaw Farmers Exchange and Mount Olive FCX will be in Kenansville next Wednesday and Thursday, orders may be delivered at the same time they are placed.

Pre-Winter Repair Urged For All Homes

Fall offers the last chance for home-owners to repair their homes before cold weather arrives. Building experts point out that living comfort is sacrificed if repairs are not made promptly and that winter makes work on the exterior of a house more difficult.

It is advised that every homeowner inspect his house, even though repairs are not known to be needed. Authorities say that two main items to inspect are the roof and the heating plant.

Where roofing has been damaged by hail, lightning, wind or falling objects and the damage is confined to one spot on the roof, repair sometimes is possible. However, if the roofing is in generally poor condition because of normal wear and tear, reroofing is advisable.

Reroofing Advised

H. R. Snooks of the National Bureau of Standards says, "There comes a time in the life of the roof on every permanent structure when it is no longer practical or economical to effect repairs and, when that time comes, reroofing is the only solution."

Building experts point out that some roofing, such as asphalt shingles, can be laid on top of the old roofing to simplify application and make a stronger roof. Asphalt shingles also add fire-resistance and come in a wide variety of colors.

Furnaces should be cleaned before the weather comes so cool that a fire must be kept burning constantly. A clean furnace will provide better heat, use less fuel and last longer than a dirty heating plant.

Repairs Save Money

If a furnace has not been inspected by a professional service man during the spring or summer, this work should be done in the fall. A defect repaired before winter begins might keep a house from being heatless during the coldest time of the year.

A repair man can often find and fix small leaks. Repairing of leaks and proper adjustment of automatic heating plants frequently result in saving less fuel and, consequently, saving money.

REPAIRS SAVE MONEY

As much as 25 percent can be saved on a home's heating bill by having a professional service man inspect and adjust the furnace before winter begins. A furnace that is not properly adjusted will burn more fuel than necessary and will not heat the house as efficiently. A professional service man can also check the chimney for blockages and clean it if necessary. This will help prevent chimney fires and ensure that the furnace is operating safely.

Whiskey Drinking In Duplin County Court House During Superior Court

Editorial

Traffic in and through Kenansville had better slow down. For the past few weeks it has become dangerous to try to cross an intersection. Its becoming a problem to find a place to park.

The curves just don't adjust themselves to normal traffic. Something has got to be done. The part of the business section doesn't comply with highway regulations. It has reached the point one can hardly find a place to park here. The intersections are drastically dangerous. Someone is going to get killed if something isn't done.

LEWIS W. OUTLAW

Mr. Lewis W. Outlaw will again head the TB Drive in Duplin this year as Chairman.

Donkey Baseball Game In Warsaw Tuesday Night, October 12

The Donkey Basketball game which is being sponsored by the American Legion and which will play one night only, Tuesday, Oct. 12 at the Warsaw Ball Park is billed as the sensation of the nation. The proceeds from the game will be used for the Boy Scouts.

It promises to be an evening of plenty of laughs. All of the players are mounted on donkeys and regular Basketball rules are used except all players must throw ball and shoot for goals while astride a donkey. The Donkeys used are Santa Fe bred burros which have been specially trained at the famous Green Valley farms. They are all equipped with custom made shoes with soles of compressed rubber which prevents damage to gym floors. The tops of the donkey's boots are of elk hide and fasten with straps. Each donkey has a mind of its own and all of them have different traits and characteristics so they have been named after famous personalities.

According to Miss Aliene Challenor, the Counselor, who is working with the American Legion, the string of donkeys will arrive by truck with their trainer on the afternoon of the game and will be paraded through the business district prior to the game. You can distinguish the donkey named Dick Tracey by his jutting jaw; Moe West is the gal with a mind of her own; Superman is little but mighty; Gypsy Rose Lee is the gal who won't keep anything on, not even good ball players; Frank Sutton is the name given the biggest Hee-Hawer in the lot; Mr. Milquost is not as gentle as his name would indicate; Miss America is the one with the million dollar legs and tapering ears; Betty Grable is the one who is fat in the best places; Gravel Gertie and Baby Sparkle have B. O. Plenty. All the donkeys are worth seeing and plenty of excitement is promised those who attend the game.

The game will be played to determine hometown champs of the court. Honorable Mayor A. J. Jenkins will throw the ball in. The announcer, Col. Bob West, will use a public address system to give a play by play description of the event so that it can be heard in all parts of the park. The Referee is Gene C. Thompson. The fun starts when the announcer says, "Play Ball!" Judging from the large advance sale of tickets there will be a big crowd attending, but tickets may be purchased from members and will be on sale at the park on the night of the game.

The Lady Godiva Relay Race on Donkeys is played by two teams, each team consisting of two men. The game starts at Home Plate on the diamond and the first two players on each team stand beside their donkeys until the Announcer says, "On your mark, Get set, GO!" On the word "Go" the men each pick up a suit case and mount their donkeys and head for second base. When they arrive inside the circle marked off to designate second base, the dismount, open the suit case and proceed to put on the following articles of women's apparel found in each suit case: 1 woman's wig; 1 brassier (stuffed); 1 girdle; 1 woman's dress; 1 woman's hat; 1 woman's large pocket book.

Each contestant must close the suitcase before mounting the donkey again, pick up the suitcase and ride back to Home Plate. There they dismount and take off the following articles of wearing apparel: 1 woman's dress; 1 woman's hat; 1 woman's large pocket book.

Bad Check Passer Operating In This Section

On September 22nd a man representing himself to be Jesse Jackson, a salesman, called at the store of Edwin Register on Highway 11 below Kenansville. Mr. Register was out at the time and the man was told by Mrs. Register, who was in the store, that Mr. Register did all the buying. Jackson then bought some gas and a few other items and gave Mrs. Register a check for thirty-five dollars, made payable to Jesse Jackson and drawn on the account of J. O. Moore, Branch Banking and Trust Company, Kingston. To allay any fears of Mrs. Register as to the worth of the check he wrote his license number on the check. The check was later returned by the bank marked "No Account". Mrs. Register brought the check to Magistrate C. B. Sitterton who drew a warrant for both J. O. Moore and Jesse Jackson. The auto license number, which Jackson had written on the check so thoughtfully and honestly, was given to Patrolman L. M. Harton who radioed Patrol Station at Elizabethtown and asked them to contact Raleigh and get the home address of Jesse Jackson. The report from Raleigh showed that the license had been issued to William Henry Harris, Bell Cross, N. C., for a 1937 Chrysler. The car driven by Jesse Jackson and which displayed the license number issued to Harris was a Ford. Patrolman Harton then radioed a patrolman stationed at Elizabeth City, N. C., who contacted Mr. Harris. Mr. Harris reported that his Chrysler had been wrecked and junked some time ago. He knew nothing of the license tags.

Mrs. Register reports that Jesse Jackson is slender, weighs about 150 pounds, height about 5 foot ten inches, between 28 and 30 years old, has brown hair and very neatly dressed.

Merchants and others are warned to be on the lookout for this affable gentleman.

Resolution

NORTH CAROLINA DUPLIN COUNTY Before the County Board Of Public Welfare October 1, 1948

WHEREAS, With deep sorrow the Board of Public Welfare of Duplin County, North Carolina, remembers the death on Monday, September 27, 1948, of Mrs. Harvey J. Boney, since 1932 Superintendent of Public Welfare of Duplin County, and extends heartfelt sympathy to the members of her family. For many years Mrs. Boney has been actively interested in the social welfare of this county, especially as affecting the family. This experience, added to a rare sense of human needs and values, peculiarly fitted her for County Welfare Officer, and her service in that office was marked by clear insight, keen wisdom, and unswerving loyalty.

WHEREAS, Her personal charm was interwoven with a quiet strength based on ability and fineness of feeling for her fellow citizens. She contributed to the present high standards of social work in this county, and her passing deprives this Board of a courageous and trusted leader, and Duplin County of a modest citizen, whose work for those who are distressed and afflicted will stand as a lasting memorial. Now Therefore be it resolved by the County Board of Public Welfare that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this Board, a copy be sent to Mrs. Boney's family, and copies furnished to the local newspapers, and to the State Department of Public Welfare.

This the 1st day of October, 1948.

Rev. Eugene Houston Clarke

By: AUBREY L. CAVENAUGH

A mighty oak has fallen; a great loss has been sustained. Mr. Gene Clarke's passing has left a great hole in the lives of the citizenship of Warsaw, to say nothing about the loss sustained by his immediate family, the Presbyterian Church and his many close friends.

Gene was a friend to mankind, he knew no strangers and his ever present smiles and words of encouragement meant more to the masses than words can portray. He was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Warsaw and Bowden, but his ideas and thoughts were in no manner restricted to these two congregations. He was a pastor to all creeds, all colors, and all stations in life.

Gene came to Warsaw in November 1945. It was known that he was suffering from an incurable disease, but he went about his work without complaining or without the slightest remorse. He administered to all that came to him and lots and lots of times he comforted those that were not in nearly as bad physical condition as he himself was.

Gene's passing has left a beautiful memory. This memory will live forever in the hearts of those that he loved and loved him. He loved Warsaw and this section. Several times he said that he wanted to live and die here, that when he finished his work here, he wanted to move to a little home and finish his life in the town he loved and amid his many friends.

Truly a great man has passed away. His memory will live a long time. No greater monument could be erected for him than for Warsaw to follow his teachings and precepts.

A WORLD'S CHAMPION TO APPEAR IN RALEIGH

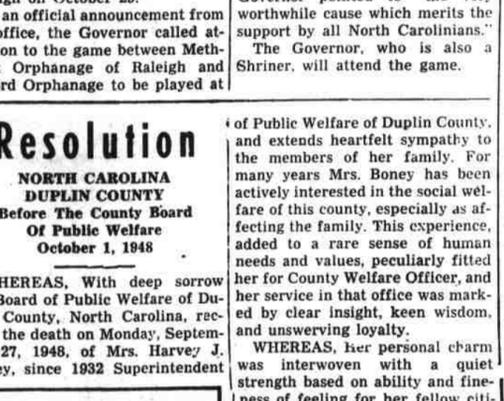

The dentist's drill and the flashing baton of a drum major both have ways of making you sit up and take notice, but it's seldom you ever think of the two at the same time.

But for Dr. George R. Rhoades, 27 year-old Kansas City dentist, twirling a baton not only brought him seven championships, but it also brought him the necessary cold cash to go through dental school.

On October 29 he comes to Raleigh, N. C. for a demonstration of his ability with the baton. The young dentist will be a part of the entertainment at half-time when two eastern Carolina Orphanage football teams square off in State College's Riddick Stadium for a contest which Sudan Temple composed of thousands of Carolina Shriners, predicts will provide thrills for 20,000 fans.

Baton-twirling George Rhoades is a Shiner which accounts for his willingness to travel to Raleigh for the brief appearance. For he knows as all Shriners have been informed that the funds received from ticket sales for the game will go to the benefit of recreational programs at the two Orphanages involved.

TENT BECOMES POLIO WARD

KENANSVILLE, N. C.—During the height of the summer polio epidemic, it was necessary to use tents such as this to provide additional space for patients. By the end of August the American Red Cross had recruited 1,000 nurses to augment local nursing staffs in the nation's fight against polio. Many of these Red Cross-recruited nurses served in the Charlotte, N. C. tent hospital. The Red Cross are paid salary, transportation and other expenses. The National Foundation for Infantine Paralysis.

State College's Riddick Stadium. In commending Sudan Temple for its sponsorship of the game, the Governor pointed to "the very worthwhile cause which merits the support by all North Carolinians."

The Governor, who is also a Shriner, will attend the game.
