Miss Cooper Weds Mr. Bledsoe In Private Home Ceremony

A private double ring ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 9, united Miss Meljones Cooper of Warsaw, and Lt. James Elton Bledsoe, of Lousburg, in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. David Southerland, in Goldsboro.

The vows were spoken to Rev. Leon Russell of St. Paul Methodist Church in the living room where an altar had been arranged of palms and tall baskets of gladioli. White tapers in standing candelabra lighted the room.

Wedding music preceding the ceremony was sung by Miss Frances Alexander, accompanied by Miss Margaret Long.

Miss Cooper entered with her brother-in-law, David Southerland. She wore an afternoon frock of white wool fashioned with a high neckline, long sleeves, and a full cut circular skirt. A wide gold cummerbund encircled her waist and she wore a coca brown hat with ostrich plumes. Other accessories were of brown. A giant orchid was her corsage.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Southerland who wore a wool dress made with a rust colored skirt and a white wool bolero. She wore tall's-man roses.

The groom had his uncle, Horace E. Edwards as best man. Candles were lighted by Misses Barbara Lynn and Barbara Southerland.

After the wedding, guests were invited into the dining room where the bride and groom cut the three tiered wedding cake. From a lace-covered table, centered with an arrangement of pom pom chrysanthemums, Miss Ann Nell Parker of Bowden, poured punch and Mrs. Ben Cooper served the cake with mints and nuts.

Mrs. Bledsoe is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cooper of East Carolina Teachers College and is now teaching in Ashboro. Lt. Bledsoe attended Wake Forest and is now with the Army stationed at Ft. Smith, Ark. After Christmas the couple will be at home in Fort Smith. For traveling Mrs. Bledsoe wore a two piece wool suit designed with a beige jacket and dark brown skirt. She used brown accessories and wore her bridal orchid.

Newlin - Southerland Wedding Held In Grove Presbyterian Church

Miss Pattie Susan Southerland of Greensboro and Kenansville, daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Southerland and the late Mr. Southerland of Kenansville, became the bride of James William Newlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Newlin of Graham, on October 2 in the Grove Presbyterian Church, Kenansville. The Rev. J. G. Morrison, pastor of the Grove Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Louise W. Mitchell of Kenansville, pianist, and Jack B. Smith of Greensboro, tenor soloist, cousin of the bride, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Lawrence Southerland, wore a gown of white satin and marquisette. She wore a fingertip veil of imported illusion which hung from a tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and showered with lilies-of-the-valley and satin streamers. Her only ornament was pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Southerland, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of sky blue moire taffeta with matching picture hat and mitts. She carried a bouquet of pink roses showered with matching ribbon.

Janet Coble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Coble of Guilford College, niece of the groom, and Florie Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Currie of Kenansville, were junior attendants. They wore pink and chartreuse taffeta dresses. They wore matching bonnets with hamburger ruffles under the brim and matching mitts. They carried old-fashioned nosegays of pastel flowers with contrasting streamers.

David Newlin of Graham was his brother's best man. Ushers were J. D. Bowman, college roommate of the groom and W. M. Morris, both of Greensboro.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Southerland chose a black crepe dress with which she wore a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a lavender dress and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. W. E. Willis of Raeford and Miss Eleanor Southerland of Clinton, twin sisters of the bride, were mistresses of ceremonies.

Mrs. Newlin is a graduate of Kenansville High School and attended Woman's College. She taught commercial classes in South Edgecombe High School, Pinetops, for three years and for the past year has been employed by Sears, Roebuck and Company as secretary.

Mr. Newlin is a graduate of Ell Whitney High School and attended Guilford College and was graduated from High Point College. He served 18 months in the U. S. Army and is employed by Sears, Roebuck & Co. as assistant manager in the merchandise department.

For traveling the bride wore an electric blue gaberdine suit with black accessories and a gray hat trimmed with brocade satin. She wore the orchid from her prayer book.

After a bridal trip to Richmond and Williamsburg, Va. they will make their home in Greensboro.
