Don't fill someone's house with utterly useless articles - you know that old expression, "it's lovely, just what I've always wanted -- what in the world is it? It is not necessary to spend a heap of money to give a pleasing gift. It is essential to suit the gift to the personality. And you can do it, no matter how absent-minded or scatter-brained you may think you are. Haven't you ever had someone to surprise you with some inexpensive article that especially warmed your heart because you knew it was selected especially for you? Get in the real spirit of the Season - don't just haphazardly buy up a bunch of gifts, to be sorted and relegated to different ones on your list. I have done it... I may have to again. I hope not. Such goings on are shameful, and such giving leaves none of the heart-warming satisfaction on the faces of the recipients. Look around your pantry shelf, and see if you can't spare some of your own delicious jams and jellies for the busy career woman on your list, who would never have time to make her own. Such gifts are also welcomed by the new bride who hasn't gotten the "hang" of jelly making yet. With all the glamorous cellophane and glittering foils available, home made delicacies rate tops as gifts, and can be the prettiest packages under the Christmas tree. Try a basket of home made candies or cookies and enclose the recipe, too, as an added attraction. I have never refused anyone a recipe in my life, and I wouldn't like it if anyone turned me down either. However, I have sense enough not to ask for recipes from people who cook professionally, and I hope you have too.

In doing up odd and different shaped parcels keep in mind the new aluminum foil that comes in rolls like waxed paper. It lends itself to any bending and shaping, and stays put. Lovely appearance, too. Tip - You can buy it here in Wallace.

The thing I like best to do at Christmas time is the dressing of baby dolls. I could write pages on the subject. There is nothing the least bit difficult about the job. Your biggest thing to remember is, begin early, so you can work in absolute secrecy evenings, and still make the deadline. Teen-agers, or anyone else with some time on their hands and a little initiative could earn a nice sum dressing dolls for working mothers, or mothers with very young children who do not have time to do it themselves.

Many of you will be starting a pattern of silver for a young lady in your family, or adding to a collection already begun. Cavanaugh's Jewelry Store in Wallace has the widest selection of patterns by several silver smiths of any one place in this area. They are all breath-takingly beautiful... you'd have to see to believe they could be so lovely. Cavanaugh's are remodeling, too, making more space for the many really useful gifts of china, pottery, and crystal which they have in stock. Most of the stores here in Wallace offer a lay-away-plan that's a boon to the woman-on-a-budget. (As aren't we all?)

Up until last year I always borrowed my Mamma's big turkey roaster to cook the family gobbler in. This year, being over 100 miles away from Mamma, I had to purchase a large roasting pan... and I found exactly what I wanted at Blackwood's. It is the biggest thing I have ever seen in the line of roasting pans, and ought to hold anything from a large turkey to a small whole pig; it sells for less than $3. There are aluminum ones, too... but for the once or twice a year that I need one, this is going to do me fine.

Next week I hope to have some gift suggestions and prices for your perusal. Meantime, start working on a batch of marmalade and plan to give it away for Christmas, or on any occasion during the coming year. Nothing better to take to a sick friend.

Monday evening Nov. 15, the Wallace Lion's Club had as their guests presidents of all the other civic organizations here.

Friends of Mrs. Bob Sheffield will be interested to know that she is doing nicely now, after her fall last week. She suffered a broken right arm.

The women of the Wallace Presbyterian Church met at the church Monday afternoon with Mrs. Kenneth Currie presiding. Very inspiring reports were given by the seven Circle Chairmen or their representatives.

The program was in charge of Mrs. J. F. Branyon and centered around "The Sabbath Day." Ladies of Circle Four were hostesses which followed the program. At this time a collection was taken to help reimburse the children at Barium Springs for the loss of their savings, which were stolen recently.

Sitterson was called when the child was discovered dead when her father awoke next morning. Coroner Sitterson made an examination and found that the back of her head was crushed. A coroner's jury decided the child came to her death by the mother rolling on her while both were sleeping. According to Mr. Sitterson the father of the child testified that when he awoke he found his wife's shoulder resting on the child's head. That when he awoke his wife they discovered that the child was dead.

Seal Sale For Community Health

The 1948 Christmas Seal Sale opens officially this week in Duplin, with the delivery of Seals to county residents. Duplin's Seal Sale is held in conjunction with the nation-wide appeal for funds to support a battle against TB being waged by the 3,000 associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association.

The annual Seal Sale, which will continue until Christmas, represents the only appeal during the year for funds to carry on the year-round TB control work of the Duplin TB Association. Quota for Duplin County, the minimum needed to carry out the 1949 program, is set at $4,500.00.

The nationwide fight against TB today is just as important as it was in 1907, the year of the first Seal Sale in the United States. Although TB has dropped from first to seventh place as the cause of deaths in America since 1907, it still kills nearly 50,000 Americans annually. In Duplin alone, 16 persons have died from this disease during the past year. Every one of these deaths were unnecessary as well as tragic, because TB can be prevented.

Mr. L. W. Outlaw explained that of the money raised in this county, 80 percent remains in the county to fight TB here and the remainder is forwarded to the N. C. State TB Association for research. Of the total raised, therefore, 95 percent will be used within the state.

Committee Election Dates Set

Community committee elections will be held in Duplin County on December 2, it is announced by J. E. Sloan, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee. At the same time farmers will choose delegates to the county committee where the county committeemen will be elected December 3.

At these elections, committeemen to administer the Agricultural Conservation Program and related programs for 1949 will be chosen. Since both the Agricultural Conservation Program and Price Supports are of vital concern to farmers of this county, it is to the best interest of each farmer to participate in this election.

Mr. Sloan emphasizes that these annual elections of committeemen give the farmer a chance to make his voice heard. "If you are pleased with the present administration, you should show it by voting. On the other hand, if you wish changes again you should show that by voting." Every farmer should show interest in his local farm program and elect men whom he feels will most efficiently carry out their responsibilities.

vans, Jr. conducted Troop Inspection, with Troop 20, Warsaw, winning first place; Troop 47, Hallsville, second and Troop 45, Rose Hill third. For District Court of Honor with Troop 48, Faison, 2nd Honor contest, Troop 20 won the and Troop 47 3rd. If banner is retained by any one troop for three straight Courts of Honor they are privileged to have permanent possession of the banner with additional banners being offered each quarter.

Scout Camp-O-Ree This Week End

S. C. Baddour, of Clinton and Vice President of the Tuscarora Boy Scout Council, announced that final preparations had been completed for the Council-wide Camp-O-Ree to be held in Clinton this week end. Mr. Baddour, serving as Camp-O-ree chief, stated that over 40 Patrols from 20 different Troops had notified headquarters of their intention of attending. Camp-site accommodations and fuel will be provided for all Patrols and it was pointed out that arrangements were made so that every Troop and Patrol in the Council could take part, regardless of whether or not they have placed previous reservations to attend. Three handsome trophies are to be presented for the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places for the three best floats in the parade that is to be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday. A number of Troops have indicated their plan to enter floats and it is expected that additional ones will be entered.
