

PINK HILL-GRADY-SMITH NEWS & VIEWS

Dress or Draperies?

The two young ladies pictured above, Vallie Wyrick and Marie Smith, laboratory employees of a Greensboro, N.C., textile plant, are having a hard time deciding whether the dazzling original block print they're examining would be more suitable for dress or drapery material. The fabric was one of many exhibited at the International Textile Exhibition at Weatherspoon gallery, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Ruffin In Accident

A practically new Cadillac owned and operated by Dr. W. Ruffin was badly damaged when it overturned several times on a curve this past week end. Dr. Ruffin was unaccustomed to traveling on the road and was not aware of the curve until too late to slow up. He received only slight bruises. It seems that accidents have been frequent at this point, in the past. Dr. Ruffin is now driving a brand new Cadillac.

New AAA Com.

In the AAA voting last Thursday Lonnie Stroud was named as the Pink Hill precinct delegate and Earl Davis, Bruce Howard and Roland Carter were elected committeemen.

H. D. Club Meets

Mrs. Leighton Turner was hostess to the Pink Hill Home Demonstration Club at her home Thursday afternoon. Miss Brickhouse, Home Agent, was in charge. It was a recreational meeting and Xmas suggestions were made. Also the following officers were elected:

Mrs. Whitford Hill, Pres.; Mrs. Fred Williams, Vice Pres.; Mrs. L. H. Turner, Secty.; and Mrs. Nick Smith, Treas. Decorations and refreshments carried out the Xmas motif.

Party Hostess

Mrs. J. L. Johnson honored her little son Rex on his birthday Friday afternoon with a party. The Christmas motif was carried out in decorations and refreshments. The little honoree received many nice gifts.

In Hospital

Mr. J. A. Worley underwent a major operation at the VA Hospital in Fayetteville last Friday and is getting along as well as can be expected. He is rural mail carrier on Pink Hill Rt. 1.

Honored

L. H. Turner, Jr. was honored on his 5th birthday Saturday afternoon when his mother entertained with a party in the basement of her home. A decorated Christmas tree was set up and gifts which the honoree received were spread underneath. Games were played and the little guests fished for favors. Cup cakes, ice cream and cokes were served. As they took their departure, candy was served from a table presided over by two snow men. About 30 guests attended.

State College Hints To Home Makers

People who are careless about their breakfasts may ask whose business it is if they choose to live that way. But it does concern others. Ill nourished people are not at their best, and in this machine age they jeopardize the safety and lives of others. Children in families which start off the day with scanty or unappetizing breakfasts are off to a bad start for school or work. Thus continually deprived in their growing years, they fail to build the stamina necessary to resist disease and premature aging. There is no end to the ills of a people who cheat their stomachs at the first meal of the day.

Thomas L. Head

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Friday for Thomas L. Head of Seven Springs, age 50, who died in a Goldsboro hospital after a brief illness. Rites were held from the graveside in Herring Cemetery near Seven Springs, with the Rev. Johnson, Methodist minister officiating.

Surviving are three brothers, L. H. of Seven Springs, Burke of Mt. Olive, and Newton Head of Kinston; two sisters, Mrs. L. A. Dawson of Seven Springs, and Mrs. H. H. Hodges of Wilmington. Mr. Head was the son of the late L. C. and Elizabeth Head.

Man vs. Woman

Man can criticize woman all he wants to, but we know three things in her favor:

First: She never wastes two dollars worth of shotgun shells shooting a 25 cent rabbit. Second: You never heard of her giving a waiter a fifty-cent tip because he smiled at her. Third: We've never heard of a woman who would pay $25 for boat hire to get where the fish are not.

American Handmade Glassware Gives Variety To Table Settings

The accomplished homemaker will find beautiful table settings just as important a feature of entertaining as the food she serves for her dinners and luncheons. And for the enterprising individuals who want their tables even more of a credit to their special good taste and imagination, the judicious choice of unusual pieces will provide a pleasing and artistic variety.

The table setting shown in the photograph is modern at its best but will be equally suitable in homes of other periods. The beautiful American glass is simple and unadorned. Its beauty lies entirely in purity of line and quality. The hand-fashioned glass ducks add an interesting accent note.
