

Beating the Housing Shortage

Deciding that one of the best ways to beat the housing shortage was to build homes, a cotton textile firm, the largest in New England, undertook an unusual step for an industrial concern in this section of the country. The company constructed in Albion, N. H., a number of the streamlined, low-cost homes shown above and is selling them to textile workers on an easy-payment plan. The homes incorporate up-to-the-minute features stressing compactness, efficiency and low operating cost without sacrificing any essentials of comfortable living.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

REMEMBER a dear friend or a shut-in this Valentine's Day with a box of delicious cookies done up prettily with ribbon and lace paper. An assortment would be ideal, such as this one prepared by Nancy Holmes, Best Foods home economist. And notice that these heart cookies can be made from one basic dough, which is certainly a grand feature and of interest to busy homemakers.

Valentine Hearts

1/2 cup sifted flour
2 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

2 cups sifted flour
2 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Cream vitaminized margarine with sugar until light. Add egg, lemon extract and rind and beat until fluffy. Add sifted dry ingredients with milk to creamed mixture, mix smooth. Remove 1/2 of dough, wrap in waxed paper, chill. Add melted chocolate to remaining dough, chill in refrigerator. Roll out each half to 1/8 inch thickness; cut with large and small heart-shaped cookie cutters. (If no cutters are available, overlap two small chocolate hearts on a light heart cookie for two hearts-as one effect, and overlap two light hearts on chocolate heart.) Place on lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in hot oven (400° F.) 5-6 minutes. Arrange in alternating rows in a decorative pattern.

Faison Wins Two Over B. F. Grady

The Faison High Bulldogs really swamped B. F. Grady High last Friday night in a doubleheader in the Grady gym. Faison girls took their game, 26-18 while the boys posted a 44-18 victory.

In the girls' game Co-Captain Evelyn Hines sank eight points to lead Faison. Muriel Price and Co-Captain Mary Taylor played a good game at guard. Mary Waters led the losing team with 10 points. Jean Sutton was the best on defense.

The Faison boys took an early lead and held a 12-2 margin at the first quarter. By halftime it had gone to 25-12. The Bulldogs used a sliding zone defense. The Faison second team played all of the four quarters. Coach Fouts praised his Bulldog squad but said they were lucky as they played with all the breaks.

Donald "Dicky" Taylor was the big show as he pumped in 23 points for Faison. Kenneth "Jack Rabbit" Warren was the big floor shot for Faison, sinking eight points and controlling both backboards. Donald Wells played and outshined floor for Grady and hit the nets for 13 points.

Florals and Stripes For Smart Effects

A bedroom should bear the stamp of its occupant, and the junior miss will want a room that suits her own feminine fancy.

A cheerful and inviting bedroom, one that will inspire pride and merit sufficient care and attention, can be very simply achieved. In the room shown, the solid colored bedspread stands out strikingly against patterned walls. Two wall papers have been combined for a different and dramatic look—a large floral design in contrast to trim, bold stripes gives the room real distinction. Wide ruffles on the spread, a thick matted scatter rug, a delicate arrangement of hanging ivy, are all in keeping with a love of glamour in interior decoration.

This is a room to be lived in and enjoyed. It will prove popular with the homemaker as well as being a boon to its young occupant. And its smart slightly tailored appearance will be a constant source of pleasure.

Bedroom decorative schemes should be designed to suit the individual taste. The wide and interesting selection of wall papers available today (especially during March which is Wall Paper Style Month) make it an easy task to do a custom-made redecorating job for every one of your rooms.
