Pointer Ch. Aristocrat's Fashion Plate, of the Gaines Research Kennel, Ridgefield, Conn., is completely nonchalant as technicians of the National Dog Record Bureau apply his Identacode number to his right hind leg. Identacode represents an advanced development in the tattooing of dogs now spreading throughout the country as a means of preventing the loss or theft of loved or valuable animals and to facilitate their recovery. A group of dogs of several breeds and of various age groups—including puppies as young as six weeks—were Identacoded at the Kennels as a test of the efficacy of the method and to establish that there was no discomfort for the dog. Red Cross Drive Still On In County

It has been the hope of Judge Robert L. West, Chairman of the Duplin County Red Cross Drive, and his assistants to put over the drive in the first ten days of March. Duplin County's quota is $4,483.00. This is being written on March 10th and, so far, no District Chairman has reported to the Executive Secretary, Mrs. N. B. Boney. This does not mean that there have been no donations, only that as yet none have been reported. However, from information received from some of the districts, it is evident that the full quota is yet not nearly reached.

Folks, this drive to collect funds for the American Red Cross is one that every man, woman and child should go all out to help. It is very seldom that one reads a newspaper without finding some story of the Red Cross in action somewhere helping those in distress. With floods and threatening floods in many of our western states which are expected to make many families homeless and, perhaps, bring with them epidemics of diseases, all you can possibly give is needed to reduce the suffering of your fellow man. The American Red Cross is the only agency equipped to give the aid these unfortunate people need. Duplin County has been very fortunate in having never had any epidemic of disease or other catastrophe necessitating Red Cross help. BUT THERE IS NO ASSURANCE THAT WE WON'T SOMEDAY BE IN BIRE NEED OF ITS HELPING HAND. Should that time ever come, you may rest assured of action from the Red Cross.

PLEASE SEE YOUR DISTRICT CHAIRMAN AND MAKE A GENEROUS DONATION TO THIS WORTHY CAUSE AT ONCE — DON'T WAIT TO BE CALLED UPON—GIVE NOW!

Mrs. N. B. Boney, Executive Secretary, requests that all District Chairmen make either partial or full reports on collections to date. In other words, let her know just how much money you have received.
