Church Women Hold Meet

A regular meeting of the Presbyterian Women of the Church was held at the home of Mrs. T. A. Turner Tuesday night.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Earl Smith presided. The program was presented by Rev. N. P. Farrior assisted by Mesdames T. A. Turner, Dempsey Smith and Earl Smith. A birthday offering in the amount of $10 was taken.

The group was invited into the dining room where the table was centered with a birthday cake, decorated with burning candles. The candles were blown out and the cake, with ice cream and mints were served to the 14 members attending.

Bridge Hostess

Mrs. D. W. Ruffin was hostess to her bridge club Wednesday afternoon. The living room where three tables were set for play was decorated with roses and other flowers. Mrs. Linwood Turner received high score prize for members, Mrs. Matt Burke, second and Mrs. G. M. Turner won consolation trophy. Mrs. Jack Worley received a prize for visitors high. The hostess served strawberry shortcake with cream and lemonade.

Music Class In Recital

Mrs. Jack Perkins will present her music class in a recital in the auditorium of the Pink Hill School on Friday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Hosts At Bar-B-Q

By TED KESTING
A human weasel is a shifty, slinking, chinless weakling who takes by unlawful craftiness what he cannot gain by intelligence, pluck, hard work and personal integrity. All of this describes not the real weasel, but his complete anti thesis.

There is nothing shifty about the weasel. He is as direct as a bullet. Yet you never hear anyone speak a kind word in his behalf. This small carnivore is always pictured as a vile satanic killer, sly, sneaky, without morals, scruples or self respect.

But, the weasel has many characteristics of which humans could be very proud, if they had them to his degree. He is equipped with a high-speed metabolism which keeps him constantly restive, always on the move. Coupled with this tremendous energy are one of the most alert and agile intelligences in wildlife, matchless fearlessness and determination, lightning physical agility, and the most amazing strength per unit of weight you will find in mammals.

Black-Draught? Help an upset Stomach?

Black-Draught may help an upset stomach if the only reason you have an upset stomach is because of constipation. Black-Draught, the friendly laxative, is easily removed and thorough when taken as directed. It costs only a penny or less a dose. That's why it has been a household with four generations. If you are troubled with such symptoms as loss of appetite, headache, upset stomach, indigestion, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, mental depression, bad breath, and if these symptoms are due only to constipation—then you should know what Black-Draught may do for you. Get a package today.

The weasel is one of the world's smallest carnivores, yet probably nature's most efficient killer. In his every daily act he is, next to the shrew, the most intense of all mammals. We call this intensity of movement and purpose ferocity, but from the weasel's viewpoint, it is nothing more than a superior development in relation to conditions of his environment. His unusual strength, plus his other qualities, enable him to cope with creatures outweighing him 2) and more times. To muscular power he adds an expert surgeon's knowledge of the most deadly but known to any rough-and-tumble fighter. Artery holds. And, knowing these, he never gambles on using less effective ones.

So do not malign the weasel, even though his purpose and the human purpose are at odds. Consider well the perfection of his dynamic character. And if, in measuring your own wits against his you can honestly say you can match him, then put aside all your personal worries. Your future is assured.
