Hello Bob,

Three months ago, today, I was in Kenansville, N. C. Today I'm in Tokyo, Japan.

After leaving Ft. Monmouth, N. J. we came to Kenansville. From Kenansville we went south to Alabama; west to Oklahoma; north to Denver, Colorado; back south again to Arizona; west to San Diego, Calif. and finally north to San Francisco, Calif. A trip of 5,400 miles. I had Claudine, Donna Louise and "Mother Lee" (Claudine's mother) with me for the trip across the "Good Old USA" and it was a nice trip even though we ran into a couple of snowstorms. No car trouble what-so-ever.

On Wednesday, 13 April 1949, I left San Francisco headed for Yokohama, Japan. Claudine, Donna Louise and Mother Lee remained in San Francisco. I arrived in Yokohama April 28th.

The following day I was taken to Tokyo to be interviewed by Brig. Gen. George I. Back. He assigned me to the communication center in the Dai Ichi Building. That is the building in which General MacArthur has his office.

So on my second day in Tokyo I waited in front of the Dai Ichi Building, among the many people with the same purpose as I, and saw General MacArthur leave the building. It is a greyish-white building, made of stone, seven stories high and has four basements. The communication office is on the 1st floor and General MacArthur has his offices on the 6th floor.

My original intention was for this to be a business letter and it just dawned on me that it was going beyond the usual length of a business letter.

Well, anyway you'll find a money order with this for five dollars. Please send the Duplin Times to me at above address.

Sincerely,
William Hampton Grady

PARKING METERS IN WALLACE?

The Wallace Town Board voted three to two to install parking meters in Wallace in an effort to check complaints of all-day parking and double parking.

The meters will be installed on both sides of Main street from the spotlight to the Presbyterian church and one side from the corner of Barden-Johnson Motor Company to a point beyond the Wallace Drug Company. Parking will be free on Sundays.

The cost of parking would apply only to cars with Wallace tags or those outside employed in town as clerks, etc. Farmers and outsiders would park in zones without feeding meters.

Mrs. D. L. Wells, Jr., was re-appointed as city attorney and Graham Pope as Fire Chief.

LACY WEEKS SAYS

Trip to Oxford Experiment Station: Arrangements have been made for Duplin Farmers to visit the Tobacco Experiment Station at Oxford, on Friday afternoon, July 1. Growers making this trip will observe extensive variety tests, insect and disease control experiments, fertilizer experiments, various tobacco barn construction with different curing systems, topping and suckering control demonstrations and cultivation experiments. This tour gives Duplin County farmers an opportunity to gain first hand the latest information on the production of tobacco.

Transportation will be arranged from Kenansville to Oxford and back for those desiring transportation. Those who wish to drive will meet the Duplin group at the Experiment Station in Oxford not later than 2:00 p.m. Those desiring transportation should notify the County Agent's office not later than Monday, June 27 in order that transportation may be arranged for a minimum cost. It is hoped that a large number of tobacco growers will take advantage of this opportunity of gaining the most recent information on tobacco production.

Tobacco Stabilization Meet: The organization which supports tobacco prices at 90% of parity will hold its annual meeting at Pullen Hall at State College in Raleigh, Friday, July 24, from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. A complete report of the flue cured tobacco stabilization during the past three years will be given. The tobacco situation and other points of interest to tobacco growers will be discussed. This is a very important meeting of flue cured tobacco growers. Every tobacco producer is urged to attend.

Tobacco Diseases: Again this year tobacco diseases are striking in nearly every community in the county. It is important that the growers identify, or have their tobacco diseases identified in order to properly deal with the situation another year. There is very little that can be done at this season of the year for the present growing crop, however, there are a number of varieties available which are resistant to the various diseases.

When tobacco plants are removed from the farm for identification purposes they should not be taken out of the vehicle that they are transported in. This will aid in controlling the spread of the disease. The County Agent's Office is receiving a large number of requests for help with identifying these diseases therefore, when a grower brings some diseased plants to the Office, please leave them in the vehicle until they are examined.

Corn Production: Virginia has challenged us in Corn Production this year. Let's throw our shoulders to the wheel and help North Carolina win this contest.

Methodist Church Appointments

MURRELL K. GLOVER, PASTOR

11:00 A.M. Magnolia;
3:00 P.M. Unity (Church Conference at Unity);
Subject: "The Cure for Vengeance"

Remaining dates in June for our young people to notice are:

June 27 - July 2 (for ages 15 - 23) Wrightsville Beach;
June 27 - July 2 (for ages 15 - 23) Louisburg Assembly.

Vacation Church School for the children and intermediate groups will be held in the Friendship Church from June 27 through July 1. The hours will be from 3:00 to 5:15 in the afternoons. They have been so arranged with the thought of this being the time of day that the parents can best spare their children. All children in the community will be welcome and are urged to attend, whether or not they or their parents are members of the Methodist Church.

A tentative date of July 4 to 9 has been set for the Vacation Church School in Kenansville, in which the three Churches of Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian will combine for the School. Further details are set to be worked out, and the date of July 5 to 9 may be decided upon.

The Young People's Group of Magnolia met last Monday night, June 20, at the Methodist Church. The number present was 20 and the topic of study was Alaska.

The pastor is spending his visiting hours this week in the Magnolia and Unity communities.

We are glad to hear that Mr. W. M. Ingram has returned from the hospital and is back at his work. Mr. Hallie Daughtry is progressing satisfactorily at his home in Kenansville in his convalescence and rest ordered by his doctors.

We regret the death and loss of Mrs. Henry Dail, who has been in the James Walker Hospital in Wilmington. The pastor and members of her church extend their deepest sympathy to her family.

COTTON CLASSING BE DEMONSTRATED

Four full-dress demonstrations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's cotton classing services, as related to marketing and ginning practices, will be held in Raleigh July 6 and 7. County Agent Lacy Weeks announced this week.

"Many persons in the cotton industry are keenly aware of the serious competitive position of cotton now, and the demonstrations will do something to help improve our system of marketing and ginning."
