Sheriff's office and in the Agricultural and Extension Service offices. A large part of the people in these areas do their banking in Kenansville. Most all meetings of county wide importance are held in Kenansville, so why should Duplin depend on other counties to render vital service when it is to our best interest, cheaper to the residents personally and to the government in general that service for Duplin be rendered by and in Duplin. We have been complacent too long. Why delay any longer? A good policy when handled right is "One for all and all for one". We are moving into a new century for Duplin. They say the third time is always lucky. Every time is lucky if our cause is just and we pull together. Let's go forward with our headlights beaming ahead.

J. R. GRADY

GUILTY OR NOT GUILTY?

Our hats off to Judge Robert L. West of the Duplin County Court. We hate to see anyone paraded before the public, their character and reputation smeared or questioned, but we know that sometimes it becomes necessary; thus the whys and wherefores of our courts.

Flagrant violations of the laws in Duplin is getting to become a habit with some. Not only do they habitually violate the law but ignore orders of the Courts and pay little heed to law enforcement officers. Such practices have become so frequent that many have begun to lose respect for our courts. It seems that slight punishments mean nothing to them. Only recently I saw a young white man nonchalantly stand before our Clerk of Court as the Clerk wrote out his commitment to ninety days imprisonment for non-support. The prisoner had been convicted and ordered to pay in a certain amount of money for the support of his children. When questioned he said he had rather spend 90 days on the roads than pay his D— wife one cent for the up-keep of his children. He didn't seem interested in his children, he was only interested in the time he will be serving, knowing that when his time is out he will probably land right back.

Judge West seems to be tiring of such characters and last week began imposing more severe sentences. We believe that if he will continue such practices some of our lawlessness will be curtailed. Placing fines on bootleggers and other law violators is nothing more than licensing them to continue their nefarious ways.

The writer knows Judge West rather intimately and knows how hard it is for him to mete out punishment. At heart Judge West is a good man and he doesn't see why others shouldn't be, but the Judge apparently is beginning to grow up in his court and to realize that that softness with habitual lawbreakers will not help the situation, it only tends to lend encouragement to those who are bordering on such a path. We hate to think that we have so many petty criminals in our county but the fact remains that we do and a large part of the responsibility rests with the courts.

More power to you Judge West. Be stern and severe and your court will grow in wisdom, dignity and strength. The least court is the best court. The determined judge is the respected and honored judge.

Wednesday brings you Walt Disney's technicolor feature "Melody Time". When you say Walt Disney, 'nuff's said. Matinee Wednesday at 3 O'clock.

Thursday and Friday the heat really runs up with the season's top notcher "June Bride". Bette Davis laughs loud and long in this new film with Robert Montgomery. It's a new Bette, trim and stylish, you see in "June Bride," and with Bob opposite her in one of his most charming flippant roles, the result is a treat of exceptional proportions. Bette plays a successful magazine editor, who hires and fires with ease. Bob comes back into her life after a European assignment, and is put on her staff, creating a problem, as the two still go for each other in a way.

The film abounds with humorous situations. Bob has an apple-cider spree with Tom Tully which is a riot. Betty Lynn, as the youngest Brinker belle, vamps small-town fashion and gets her man. All in all, this is really a top-notch.

Saturday again and it's double feature day with "Gang Busters No. 8".

The opening show features Noah Beery, Jr. who upholds Beery fame in "Stormy".

One of the most stupendous and difficult locat'on trips of recent years was that to film "Stormy" the Reelart drama of the great outdoors, with Noah Beery, Jr., Jean Rogers, Rex, the king of wild horses; and the original Arizona Wranglers. The entire picture was made in the Painted Desert and other beautiful locations often more than 112 miles from the railroad with the temperature reaching 131 degrees, sudden cloudbursts which stalled sound trucks and cars in deep mud.

Feature number two will be "Billy The Kid Wanted" with Buster Crabbe and Al "Fuzzy" St. John.

For a cool, comfortable evening while away the early hours at the Capital Theatre in Kenansville. If you live in town its only a short walk. If you live out of town it is a pleasant time to drive. For your pleasure next week Duplin's newest show house offers a series of good hits from cinema land.

The snarling, rough and loud-mouthed movie "heavy" that has been the hallmark of "Westerns" is on his way out. "Belle Starr's Daughter" shows Monday and Tuesday.

It's not that this action-packed story of adventure doesn't have a villain. "Bitter Creek," the ruthless bandit of the story, is said to be the most sinister and dangerous character ever to terrorize the countryside. But as played by Rod Cameron, "Bitter Creek" is a slender, young handsome fellow of gentle voice and polite demeanor. The iron fist in the velvet glove, however, is not concealed for long.

Among the objects of Cameron's villainy are Ruth Roman, who plays Rose, daughter of Bell Starr, who joins "Bitter Creek" before she realizes that it was he who killed her mother, the Bandit Queen of Cherokee Flats. The villainous desperado, however, meets his nemesis in George Montgomery, who plays a U. S. Marshal in love with Rose and, accordingly, has an extra-special reason for tracking down Cameron. Their battle-to-death climaxes the action-packed hit.
