and junior high schools, from 1st grade through the 10th. That the 11th and 12th grade pupils commute by bus from each junior high school to the senior high school. That sufficient equipment be provided and teachers employed with special training for this particular school. Emphasis be placed on vocational training so that a child who does not plan to attend college, will be adequately equipped to go out and make a living. Those who plan further college training in liberal arts or the professions will be adequately equipped to meet all requirements of any college or university with a background of training second to none.

Further: it is suggested in making this move that the idea of establishing a junior college in Kenansville in connection with the senior high school be taken into consideration. A small tax levy for the support of the first two years of college be voted by the people. The junior college be tuition free to all residents of Duplin County. The two years of college to also emphasize vocations so that those not wishing to go into higher education will have the actual advantages of four years of intensive training along their chosen lines. The two years of junior college, of course, will not be compulsory. The graduate of the junior college will receive full credit in any college or university.

Off hand this may sound like heavy sledding from a financial standpoint, but as we pointed out in the beginning, the United States and its Democracy was built on education and heavy sledding. As education has advanced our people have advanced.

Today every school is overcrowded. Money to be allotted to Duplin from the State, including our part of the $50,000,000 bond issue is not sufficient to meet our needs. If the two high grades in each school were consolidated into one school one building could house it and there would be adequate room in present buildings for the remaining ten grades. Physical equipment, laboratories, libraries, etc., could be expanded to equal if not exceed any present county or city system in North Carolina. Such a movement is going to become state-wide before many years. Why not Duplin take advantage of the idea now and lead the way? Let's show our pioneering spirit as we enter the third stage of our existence.

Think it over, folks. It's not just a mere pipe dream. It is a reality within our grasp. Duplin has a reputation of accomplishing worthwhile projects once she sets her mind to them.

We would like to hear from you readers on this suggestion.

Entertains At Bridge

One of the prettiest parties of the season was given last Wednesday evening when Mrs. Vance B. Gavin entertained the Wednesday Kontract Klub and five additional tables at her home. A color scheme of yellow and green was effectively carried out in table appointments and flower arrangements. Upon arrival guests were served punch and after guests were seated, block ice cream in green and yellow, individual cakes and salted nuts.

When scores were totaled Mrs. J. B. Wallace was awarded high score prize for club members and Miss Margaret Williams for visitors. Mrs. D. H. McKay captured cut prize. Mrs. C. C. Loth of Waynesboro, Va. and Mrs. Daisy Craven, a visitor in town, were both remembered with attractive gifts.

Mrs. W. E. Mayo of Philadelphia, Pa., is visiting her daughter Mrs. L. A. Highsmith.

Bridge Hostess

Mrs. J. B. Wallace was hostess Tuesday evening to the members of her bridge club with Mesdames Louise Mitchell, I. C. Burch and Bill Craft as visitors. When guests were seated the hostess served cold drinks and cheese biscuit and at the end of play a frozen fruit dessert and home made cookies. Mrs. D. H. McKay won high score for members and Mrs. Mitchell for visitors. Mrs. Burch captured consolation prize.

Entertains

Mrs. George Bennett entertained her bridge club at her home in Warsaw Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. B. Wallace won high score for visitors and Mrs. D. S. Williamson won high for members. At the conclusion Mrs. Bennett served ice cream and ginger ale.
