Kiddies-Can-Do-It

His name is one of the most curious mistakes that you will find in the animal kingdom. In no sense is he a pig nor is he any relation to a guinea, yet we call him a guinea-pig. Down in South America, his native home, he goes by the name of savy. Study this lot of tangled lines carefully, and see if you can see his picture in them. When you are sure that you have discovered it, take your pencil and try to blot out all the unnecessary lines and have a large picture of a guinea-pig.

State College Hints To Home Makers

Safety precautions really pay in protecting children at this season are: Put hoes, rakes and other tools away promptly after use to prevent accidents from sharp points and cutting edges.

Keep yard and surroundings where children may wander free from broken glass, protruding nails, broken tools and tin cans. Have a secure cover for every well and fill up any well not in use. Keep insecticides, medicines, and matches where children cannot reach them.

Never leave tubs of hot water where children may fall in them. Keep guns unloaded and out of reach of children.

Always turn handles of cooking utensils away from the edge of the stove so that youngsters cannot reach them.

State College Hints To Home Makers

For variety plus flavors from the flower world, try honey.

Use honey to sweeten cool fruit drinks. Honey also makes a likeable sweetening for iced tea or coffee.

Serve honey fruit cup as a first course or wessert. If fruits in the cup are mild and sweet, mix lemon juice with honey, add to the fruit and then chill before serving. If the fruit includes a tart kind, such as grapefruit, add honey alone.

Use honey with fruit salads—ambrosia fruit salad, for example. Peel and slice oranges and dip the slices in honey, then in shredded coconut. Place the slices on lettuce and top with berries or cherries.

For a quick salad dressing to go over fruit combinations, mix equal parts of honey and lemon juice. Add celery seed, if desired.

When baking apples, add honey and table fat to each cored apple. Baste with honey during baking.

viable performance in mechanizing their farms, except where they have let accidents near the records, Lacy Weeks, county agent said today.

America leads the world in mechanized agriculture. Three million tractors now play a vital role in the production and harvesting of the nation's crops, Mr. Weeks said. But at the same time reports that tractors may be involved in nearly 75% of all accidents with farm machinery. All these accidents are needless.

The main safety rule for operating tractors in the field is just good common sense. You can't afford to gamble the loss of a limb or life by operating without the power-take off shield in place. Cranking a tractor while in gear is another dangerous way to start a day's work.

Excessive speed, and careless operation around ditches will also hurry a trip to the hospital. Jumping off the tractor while in motion is another way to invite an accident. Careless parents who permit children to ride tractors or hitch a ride on trailing implements are not really thinking about the child's welfare.
